IKE, NEGRO TO CONFER ON INTEGRATION CRISIS

NEWPORT, R.I. (UP)—President Eisenhower has agreed to confer with Negro Congressman Aram Clayton Powell on the school integration crisis. Powell, a Democrat who supported the president for re-election, had asked Eisenhower to meet with him and other Negro leaders to discuss school integration problems.

Faubus Defies Subpoena

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus defied a subpoena for a hearing today in an anti-segregation lawsuit and asked U.S. District Judge Ronald Davies to disqualify himself as "biased and prejudiced."

The suit is not directly related to Friday's hearing, in which Faubus also is under subpoena. The second case grows out of his use of the state militia to keep Negroes out of Central High School in Little Rock.

Faubus told reporters he does not know whether he will honor the summons for Friday's court action.

Davies is on the bench in both cases.

He was one of three federal judges before whom Negro ministers brought a petition today, challenging the validity of Arkansas laws, passed by the legislature this year, which are aimed at preserving segregation in the state's schools.

Davies will sit alone in Friday's hearing.

His rejection of a subpoena—on grounds that as governor of the state the federal court could not compel his appearance—gave a clue to his possible course of action Friday.

State militia troops, at the direction of Faubus, have kept Negro students from entering the school.

Lawyer for 10 Negro ministers challenging constitutionality of the Arkansas laws attempting to halt or delay integration had obtained issuance of a subpoena for Faubus.

If Judge Davies issues a temporary injunction at Friday's hearing—and there is little doubt in Little Rock that it will be granted—it will command the governor to withdraw guardsmen from the school and open the doors for Negroes to enroll.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

We thank thee, O God, for so much honesty in man when it is often profitable to cheat, for so much fairness among men when the rewards of self-assertion are often clearly seen, and for so much patience displayed even while the hustler gets what he goes after. Keep reminding us of thyself through these down-to-earth people who live up to heavenly standards; in Jesus' name. Amen.

Woman Prime Minister? Why Not?—Fairclough

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Canada may one day have a woman prime minister, in the opinion of Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, secretary of state in the new Conservative government and the first woman to hold a cabinet post in Ottawa.

"I see no reason why a woman of exceptional gifts should not be prime minister," said slim, brown-eyed Mrs. Fairclough, interviewed during a brief visit to Victoria today.

"Of course," she added quickly, "it is not likely to happen for a long time to come. But I can foresee a time when a woman parliamentarian of outstanding ability and character may qualify for government leadership."

In support of her argument, Mrs. Fairclough said public prejudice against women in high office has diminished considerably in recent years, and women generally are becoming increasingly interested in public affairs.

ONE DRAWBACK
"There is, however, the drawback that most women like to live close to home. For that reason most of them are attracted to public work at the municipal level."

Although she successfully introduced legislation to provide equal pay for women in industry, Mrs. Fairclough stated emphatically that she is not a feminist.

"I do not think women should be in parliament just because they are women. They must have a special interest in public affairs and the ability to express themselves clearly and forcefully."

"For that reason I do not advocate any special training for women parliamentarians. They should graduate naturally into it."

public life through their interest in public affairs."

First elected to parliament in 1950, Mrs. Fairclough disclosed that she actually lost money during her first year in Ottawa.

This was due, she said, to the cost of travelling between Ottawa and her home in Hamilton and living expenses in the capital.

Did she favor raising sessional indemnities to federal members?

"No, I don't think that is advisable," she replied. "If we raise remuneration too high we shall attract people who could not earn that much anywhere else. And a person interested only in making money is not an ideal parliamentarian."

NEW OFFICE
In her new office as secretary of state, Mrs. Fairclough administers the Queen's Printer and in that capacity she visited the Queen's printing establishment at HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt, this morning.

Later she was to meet Premier Bennett at the legislative buildings and tonight she will be honored at a dinner arranged by A. E. deB. McPhillips, Conservative member for Victoria.

'HARD CORE' STILL IN U.S.

Reds Remain Menace
FBI Chief Charges

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—FBI director J. Edgar Hoover said today there is still a "hard core of conspiratorial Reds" in the United States.

He said they are unaffected by party differences and controlled by the heavy hand of Moscow.

Hoover dismissed reports of a drop in Communist party membership in this country. He said Communists remain a "far more deadly menace" than the figures indicate.

"When we dismiss the menace of Communism as the activity of a small dissident group, we move into a fool's paradise," he said.

As long as this undercover apparatus exists, he said, "the Communist threat cannot be brushed aside as trivial or fanciful. It is a continuing, aggressive force constantly at work to subvert and subvert the American people."

Arms to Syria 'War Risk' Dulles Warns Russ at UN

Higher Car Seats To Show Off Queen

LONDON (UP)—The London Daily Mirror said today seats are being raised four inches in the cars to be used by Queen Elizabeth II when she visits the United States this fall.

The state department wants Americans to get a good view of her during the tour, the newspaper said. But it said the state department also was "worried about the Queen's legs" and will raise the floors too.

The Mirror said someone pointed out that the Queen's legs would be left dangling if the seats were raised without raising the floor.

State department officials were too polite to ask for measurements from the palace, the newspaper said, and measurements were finally figured out by use of slide rules and working from full length pictures of the Queen.

Halt Red Drive, Assembly Asked

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—State Secretary Dulles told the UN today the Soviet Union is risking armed conflict in the Middle East by sending arms to Syria and other Arab countries.

Turkey, he said, already is faced with a "growing military danger" from the Soviet build-up in Syria and in Russia. And he warned that Soviet aid to Middle East countries, together with inflaming Communist propaganda, might lead the recipient of the Soviet arms "into acts of direct aggression."

"One consequence," Dulles said, "... is that Turkey now faces growing military danger from the major buildup of Soviet arms in Syria on its southern border, a buildup concerted with Soviet military power on Turkey's northern border."

The U.S. secretary called on the 82-country General Assembly to give the Soviet actions a full airing in an attempt to halt what he called a policy of Middle East domination by the Communists.

Syrian delegate Jawdat Murti denied that his country poses a threat to any country.

"The West knows very well," he told a reporter, "that Syria is in no position to threaten anybody. And it has no intention to threaten any of its neighbors."

In a broad policy declaration, Dulles said "the United Nations may not be able by any material power it can muster to tranquilize the scene." But he asserted it must exert its full influence to stop the Russians.

Touching on the disarmament problem, he told the UN the Soviet Union has no monopoly on space weapons.

Tons of Poison Spilled in Crash

Chemists Rushed to Clean Up Lethal Cyanide at Ontario Town

THAMESVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Chemists from the United States were rushed to this Western Ontario community today to help clean up 25,000 pounds of sodium cyanide which spilled along the Canadian National Railways right-of-way here early today following a train-truck collision.

The shipment was from the E. I. Du Pont plant in Buffalo and was passing through Ontario in bond bound for Detroit.

A Du Pont of Canada spokesman in Toronto said there was no immediate danger to persons in the Thamesville area from sodium cyanide because it does not give off lethal fumes though it could burn the skin. He said rain, reported falling today on the spilled chemical, would not readily affect the chemical to make it dangerous. Its main danger was in drinking water, he said.

But workmen laboring to clear up the sodium cyanide complained by mid-day today of burns from the flakey white chemical.

St. John Ambulance official Al Puddicombe said at least 10 men were treated at the scene. The sodium cyanide was dumped more than 100 yards along the line when the CNR train crashed with a tractor-trailer bound from Buffalo to Detroit with a bonded shipment of the chemical from the American E. I. Du Pont Company.

The only person injured in the crash was truck driver J. C. Sluder, 39-year-old father of four from Wayne, Mich., who said "I tried to stop" when he saw the CNR train speeding towards the level crossing.

Sluder suffered shoulder injuries.

Meanwhile other residents of this village of 1,100 complained that a light wind was blowing a white powder about and that it affected their lips and their eyes.

Civil defence officials ordered all children to remain at school during the lunch hour and to remain in the school building until officials declared any danger over.

Grief-stricken villagers today surrendered to police dozens of nine-year-old live shells of the type that exploded accidentally and killed 15 children Tuesday.

Residents of Sandale, a nearby village, where the children lived, started the drive Wednesday and police stockpiled them in remote area for dismantling by demolition experts today.

They said they expected residents of many other villages in the area, close to the Jordanian border, to turn in their lethal souvenirs of the 1948 Palestine war.

Underground A-Blast Fails to Score Here

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP)—A small atomic bomb was fired today in a chamber 800 feet beneath a desert mesa.

Its earthquake-like shock waves are expected to tell scientists much that is new about the globe we live on. And it may show the way to "safe" testing of some types of nuclear weapons.

The explosion was the 21st of the summer test series and the first full-scale underground shot in history. Two near-surface blasts were fired in 1951.

In the gambling town of Las Vegas, 90 miles away, no effects were noticed.

There were no visible surface effects. No flash. No heat wave. No shock wave.

RUTH TOURS NORTHLANDS

Times columnist Ruth Enke, whose "Woman's Outlook" appears on page 5 twice weekly, is touring northern British Columbia and the Yukon which she looks upon as "the promised land."

The first of her reports appears today despite her worry: "I'll never get this trip down in words—it should be painted, varying from gentle water colors to savage oils. I saw the northern lights hanging in a curtain. And I smelled a quarter section of sweet white clover."

15 Children Killed By Old War Shells

JERUSALEM, Israel (UP)—Grief-stricken villagers today surrendered to police dozens of nine-year-old live shells of the type that exploded accidentally and killed 15 children Tuesday.

Residents of Sandale, a nearby village, where the children lived, started the drive Wednesday and police stockpiled them in remote area for dismantling by demolition experts today.

They said they expected residents of many other villages in the area, close to the Jordanian border, to turn in their lethal souvenirs of the 1948 Palestine war.

Violent Propaganda 'Risky'

"The Soviet Union has announced that it has discovered ways to use outer space to wreak vast destruction anywhere," he said. "That is no new discovery. The United States, too, knows how that can be done."

Dulles added: "Those who feel an abnormal sense of power as a result of the recent putting into their hands of large amounts of Soviet bloc arms, are being incited by violent propaganda. That is risky business."

The secretary charged Russian acts in the Middle East were in violation of an assembly resolution adopted in 1945 calling upon every nation to refrain from any threats or acts aimed at impairing the integrity of any state.

He said the situation called not only for individual and collective vigilance on the part of all free nations but, "when there is such a situation as now exists in the Middle East, this General Assembly ought at least to consider it and discuss it."

He said the United States would reserve the right in the light of these discussions to introduce concrete proposals.

Referring specifically to the situation in Syria, he declared: "This Soviet Communist effort has made the most progress in Syria, where Soviet bloc arms were exultantly received and where political power has increasingly been taken over by those who depend upon Moscow. True patriots have been driven from positions of power by arrests or intimidation."

GROWING DANGER
"One consequence of this is that Turkey now faces growing military danger from the major buildup of Soviet arms in Syria on its southern border, a buildup concerted with Soviet military power on Turkey's northern border."

"Last week the Soviet Union sought to intimidate Turkey from making internal dispositions of its security forces to Continued on Page 2

Russ 'Invade' NATO Force

LONDON (AP)—A Russian trawler passed today through the seven-country naval formation—now engaged in NATO Exercise Strikeback.

Officials in London said the vessel, about 106 feet long and carrying the name Kalingrad moved directly through a concentration of about 50 ships.

The trawler was signalled but did not respond.

U.K. Bank Rate Hike Surprises in Canada

(See also Page 5)

OTTAWA (CP)—First Canadian reaction to Britain's decision to boost her bank rate to seven per cent was one of surprise and some concern over the impact of the increase of Canadian exports.

However, there was some feeling in Ottawa that the boost of two per cent—a drastic increase raising the British rate to the highest point in 37 years—might have the effect of attracting more investment dollars overseas.

This might help strengthen the British pound which has been sagging under the weight of a widening U.K. deficit in her trade with the dollar area.

The Canadian central bank rate is at a near-record 4½ per cent; the United States rate about 3½ per cent. The Canadian rate has been easing slightly in recent weeks.

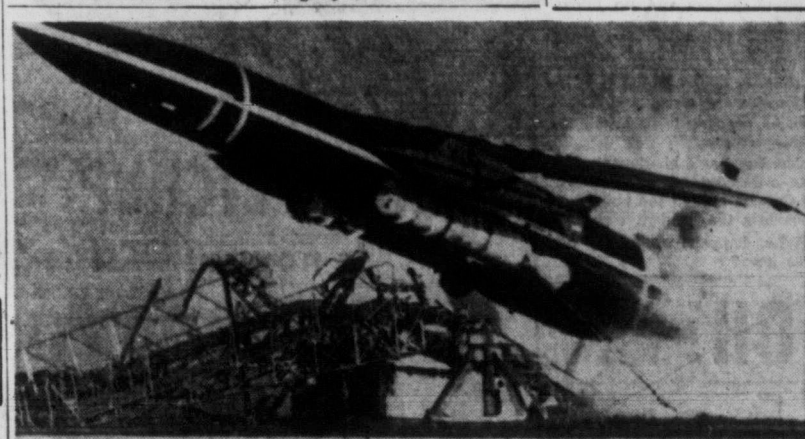

Britain's determination to curb spending by making borrowing extremely expensive could have some effect on Canadian exports, officials said.

PILOT DIES, AIRLINER SAFE

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—A Northwest Airlines DC-6B with 62 passengers aboard landed safely today after the pilot died while the plane was in the air.

The plane commander, Capt. Alfred H. Lohmar, 51, was stricken, apparently by a heart attack.

First Officer Arthur Steadman, Jr., 33, of Farmington, Minn., took over the big plane and brought it in to a safe landing at the Madison airport.

U.S. SPEEDS GLOBAL MISSILE PLANS

Powerful rocket boosters ignite as U.S. speed-of-sound Snark missile is about to be airborne. This weapon will be used by first intercontinental missile squadron announced by the U.S. The group will be organized and ready to go into operation by end of year. (AP Wirephoto.)

DR. WINSTON PRICE ... claims discovery.

Common Cold Vaccine 80% Effective

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 34-year-old Johns Hopkins scientist today drew the attention of sneezers and sniffers with his disclosure that he has developed an effective vaccine for the common cold.

The discovery claimed by Dr. Winston H. Price of the Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health is that:

1. He has succeeded in isolating the first "true" virus of the common cold—one responsible for 30 per cent of the cases he has studied during a two-year period.

2. He has developed a vaccine which, in controlled tests on more than 400 persons, prevented colds caused by the "JH virus" in 80 per cent of the cases.

The possibility of mass producing the vaccine is good, Dr. Price indicated.

Immunity is produced from two shots of the vaccine, the second following the first by four weeks, Dr. Price said. He could not say how long the immunity would last.

He said they are unaffected by party differences and controlled by the heavy hand of Moscow.

Hoover dismissed reports of a drop in Communist party membership in this country. He said Communists remain a "far more deadly menace" than the figures indicate.

"When we dismiss the menace of Communism as the activity of a small dissident group, we move into a fool's paradise," he said.

As long as this undercover apparatus exists, he said, "the Communist threat cannot be brushed aside as trivial or fanciful. It is a continuing, aggressive force constantly at work to subvert and subvert the American people."

Mr. Average Man has an interest in Middle East war scares, because if there is one that's where he'll be caught—right in the middle.

With lady prime ministers, an election c'd soon develop into a beauty contest.

Looks like they're tryin' t' tag th' Battle Lake job as one o' them sins o' commission.

Stowaways to Present Another Hanna Case?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two stowaways from Vancouver discovered aboard ship in Bellingham, Wash., have told American authorities an incredible tale of how they journeyed illegally half-way round the world without speaking a word of English.

If their story is true, Vancouver immigration officials may soon be faced with another problem involving men without a country.

The men, who gave their names as Arto D. Rabord and Josef Bouop, are confined aboard the Norwegian freighter Elisabeth Bakke, and will return to Vancouver with the ship in a few days.

Regional U.S. immigration director John Boyd of Seattle said the pair have no papers of any kind. One of them speaks fluent German, and both spoke freely through an interpreter.

They said they fled from Hungary into Austria, then slipped across the border into France and stowed away aboard a ship in Marseilles.

The ship called at Halifax where they disembarked illegally in March. How they made their way across Canada without papers and no knowledge of the language is a mystery, but they arrived in Vancouver and boarded the Elisabeth Bakke at CPR pier.

They were discovered Tuesday as the ship neared Bellingham.

Mr. Boyd said his department has ordered the pair returned to Canada aboard the ship, and considers the incident closed.

What happens when they arrive here?

CLIMBING, NOT SERIOUS

Asian Flu Hits 65,000 in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Here's the latest communique on Asian flu:

1. The number of cases in the United States is climbing. The U.S. public health service, which put the total at 50,000 last week, now estimates "at least 65,000" cases. Officials said, however, that part of the apparent increase may represent improved reporting procedures.

2. There is no sign yet that the disease has begun to spread with the prairie-fire speed of a true national epidemic. Outbreaks have been reported in 37 states, but all have remained localized. The biggest local epidemic, in Louisiana, apparently is leveling off.

3. Vaccine production is running somewhat behind schedule. Drug manufacturers originally hoped to turn out 8,000,000 shots by Sept. 15. Only 5,430,442 shots actually were released for military and civilian use by Sept. 12. A new batch, which will go out this week, will bring the total to about 7,000,000.

4. Asian flu continues to be a comparatively mild disease for most victims. Twelve deaths have been reported among 65,000 cases—a death rate of two 100ths of 1 per cent. There is no evidence that the disease is growing in virulence like the great flu epidemic of 1918 which caused an estimated 850,000 deaths in the United States.

At public health service headquarters, where daily reports from every part of the country are plotted on huge charts, epidemic experts are watching closely for the first sign that isolated outbreaks of flu have begun to merge into a great wave of contagion.

Weak Esther Still Kills 4

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Tropical storm Esther was only a shallow low pressure area in Mississippi today, but four were dead in her wake and flooding was threatened in her path.

It was water, rather than wind, that figured in the four deaths and put Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana on the alert for possible floods.

Union Pay Scale For Power Board Ash River Crews

Union pay scale and working conditions in the Port Alberni area will be met by B.C. Power Commission for its own employees engaged on the $12,000,000 Ash River power project.

James Moffat, president of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council, told Victoria Labor Council Wednesday night that an agreement had been reached in pre-job meetings with the commission by officers of the Island, Vancouver and New Westminster building trades councils.

Libel Trial Jurors Still Deliberating

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jurors in the Confidential magazine libel trial began their third day of deliberation today to determine if the six defendants are guilty of conspiring to publish obscenity and to commit criminal libel.

Jewelry Stolen

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thieves looted $2,200 worth of diamond rings early today from a downtown jewelry store.

A large rock was thrown through a plate-glass window in the Granville Street store of the Hutchinson Jewelry Co.

The store lost $2,500 worth of diamond rings in a similar raid only three weeks ago.

Red Regime Worried

SAN MARINO (AP)—Faced with possible defeat in a parliamentary vote, the Communist government of this tiny republic dissolved the grand council today and called for new elections.

The election date has not been set but it is assumed it will be held this year.

Duplessis Men Sweep By-Election

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Premier Maurice Duplessis' powerful National Union government swept all four seats in Wednesday's provincial by-elections to increase its standing in the 92-member legislature to 73.

The Liberal party lost the riding of Compton to cut its standing to 16. Three seats are held by Independents.

More than 75 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls. Voting was reported quiet.

The closest contest was in Vaudreuil-Soulanges where Liberal Paul Gerin-Lajoie had been given a good chance of beating

Loyola Schmidt, National Union candidate. Schmidt drew 7,980 votes to 7,329 for Gerin-Lajoie, while Antoine Giguere of the CCF party trailed with only 28.

Claude Gosselin carried the Compton riding, polling 6,631 votes to 3,127 for his Liberal opponent, Paul Paquin.

Joseph-Marie Laberge recorded the largest margin of victory, outdrawing Liberal Joseph Bourdon 6,871 to 1,941 in Chateauguay.

Joseph Fortin in Megantic also held a wide edge over his Liberal opponent, Pierre Marheux, drawing him 13,781 votes to 7,476.

MRS. PAUL BISSLEY

WON TOP RED CROSS AWARD

Heroic Frenchwoman Among New Citizens

A petite Frenchwoman repeated the oath of allegiance in a strong voice at Victoria's Court House Wednesday and became a Canadian citizen.

Before Judge J. B. Clearhugh she swore to be "faithful and bear true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, her heirs and successors, according to law."

She renounced all allegiance and fidelity to any foreign sovereign or state of whom or which she was at this time a subject or citizen.

"It must be a very hard thing for her to do," said a woman who was watching.

FOUGHT, SUFFERED

And for Mrs. Paul Bissley it probably was hard, for she had fought and suffered for her native France. She had received the Croix de Guerre and the golden medal of honor, the highest award given by the Red Cross and usually awarded posthumously.

Single-handedly she had negotiated a truce between Allied and German troops in October of 1944.

When the Second World War was declared, Mrs. Bissley volunteered as a conveying nurse in the French Red Cross.

She conveyed wounded from the occupied zone in France to Algeria, Morocco, Tunisia and Switzerland.

Later as chief of the Ambulance Drivers Corps of the Red Cross, Mrs. Bissley was sent to tend the wounded in all the bombed cities of France for more than two years.

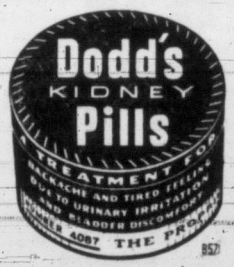

When the Allied forces landed in Southern France in August, 1944, she was chief of the Red Cross section for the south, stationed in Mentone, near the Italian border.

The Germans retreated before an Allied barrage and took Mentone as their fortress.

"We were cut off for two months," Mrs. Bissley said. "There was no food and no water and the curfew was imposed all day every day. The only ones allowed out were 16 Red Cross workers. We were desperate for food. There was none in the stores so we had to gather what we could from garden patches."

"National soup" was served by the Red Cross twice a day to the more than 8,000 Mentone residents.

The town was bombed continually by Americans, British and Canadians because of a huge German ammunition depot.

STUDENT TOSSES LYE AT MATES, 19 BURNED

NEW YORK (UP)—A 17-year-old student threw lye into a high school classroom in Brooklyn today, injuring 19 students and a teacher.

Two of the students were taken to a hospital for treatment. Police said the other 17 and the teacher in the Jefferson High School classroom were injured only superficially.

A youth identified as Maurice Keller entered the room and flung the lye at the seated students, according to police. Keller then ran. Police were hunting for him.

Mystery Explosion Tears Up Pipeline

BAGOT, Man. (CP)—An explosion ripped up a 60-foot section of the Trans-Canada Pipe Line Wednesday, two miles south of Bagot, 22 miles west of Portage la Prairie.

The blast, cause unknown, blew out a 20-foot deep crater 240 feet long by 100 feet wide. No one was injured, but vibrations of the blast were felt two and one-quarter miles away.

Two links of pipe were blown out of the section bed where the line is buried six feet underground.

"There were so many casualties that at one time we had to care for 85 in a half-hour," she said.

As chief organizer, Mrs. Bissley headed an evacuation of all residents in three days and three nights.

Mrs. Bissley stayed on as liaison officer with the Allied troops.

"The Germans were about 20 miles away," she said, "and in the middle was a no-man's-land where about 30 people were trapped."

The area was heavily mined and when the bombing was light, Mrs. Bissley drove in to feed and nurse them.

Finally the Allies decided to attack and Mrs. Bissley was sent to the German fortress at Castellon to ask for a four-hour truce so that people of no-man's-land could be evacuated.

She took four messages to and from the German officers, walking a total of 50 miles along a mined path.

On the final trip she was imprisoned by the Germans overnight, but at last they agreed to a truce. And Mrs. Bissley, spent and hungry, helped in the evacuation.

She received the Croix de Guerre for showing "the best qualities of energy, decision and courage" in her negotiations with the enemy.

When VE Day came, Mrs. Bissley was still serving her country as a liaison officer in England. Seven years ago she came to Victoria and was married to her husband, secretary of the Union Club. Since then she has worked for her adopted country as secretary of the Greater Victoria Citizenship Council.

were burned; others covered with mud.

Although the line was believed under pressure of gas at the time, there was no flame and the flow of gas was shut off by valves to the west.

It was not known whether the mishap would delay arrival of natural gas through the pipe line which is to serve Portage la Prairie, Winnipeg and points east.

Official opening ceremonies are set for Winnipeg Sept. 27.

Thailand's New Leader Backs SEATO

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—Military advisers of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization met today despite this week's coup that toppled pro-Western Premier P. Pibulsonggram.

"The conference program will be the same, only the hosts will be different," said a spokesman for Marshal Sarit Thanarat, armed forces chief who seized power Monday.

Although rumored to be anti-SEATO, Sarit had said he would continue Thailand's close cooperation with the anti-Communist alliance and said he wanted to keep SEATO's permanent headquarters in Bangkok.

Plans for the advisers' meeting had been drawn up long before the bloodless coup that put Sarit in power.

Conference delegates included Admiral Felix Stump, Pacific fleet commander, for the United States.

Victorian Named to Head Radioactive Fallout Study

A widely-known Victoria medical scientist will head the study of radioactive fallout in Canada and its impact on the nation's health.

Dr. Peter Mar, former research biochemist at St. Joseph's Hospital, leaves for Ottawa next week to take up an appointment as director of a national health department research laboratory.

He was honored Wednesday at a luncheon sponsored by the Victoria branch of the United Nations Association, of which he is past president, and the Greater Victoria Citizenship Council.

SCROLL PRESENTED Mayor Percy Scurrell, Olive C. Smith and A. Ford signed an illuminated scroll presented him on behalf of the two organizations.

Dr. Mar has completed six months at Deep River undergoing radio-chemical indoctrination in preparation for his new job.

"At present, we don't know enough about this problem to say what the future will be," he said. "A closer study of the situation is my particular problem."

There are 14 sampling stations across Canada operated by the department of agriculture. Another 10 to 15 stations to test fallout are expected before long.

Dr. Mar said it was expected the extent of fallout occurring in Canada would be determined through these stations before the effects on milk power and bone is studied.

"This study of bones will be our final court of appeal," he said. "This work is just starting and we will have to proceed slowly."

Elders son of a Chinese minister, Dr. Mar was born in Victoria in 1902. He won four degrees in science and chemistry at the University of Manitoba.

Consider the Consumer

MR. DAVIE FULTON, THE MINISTER of justice, has instructed his department to study the existing law against retail price maintenance and recommend its continuance or repeal. The outcome of this study will be awaited with anxiety by all Canadian consumers, that great mass of unorganized Canadians who must pay prevailing prices, willy-nilly.

In 1951 the Canadian Parliament, on the advice of the Liberal Government, forbade any manufacturer to fix the price at which a retailer must sell his goods. If one retailer wished to sell at a price lower than his competitor he must be allowed to do so. The theory behind this law was the theory of competition which businessmen generally support. Parliament held, in short, that some large manufacturing concern should not be permitted to fix the retail price of its products throughout the nation as it saw fit, that prices should reflect individual costs and conditions, and that the more efficient retailers should not be forced to keep prices up to a fixed level.

This legislation brought strong protests from some manufacturers and retailers; also from the Conservative Party, then in opposition. Among its leading critics was Mr. Fulton.

Now the opponents of the law are demanding that the Conservative Government repeal it without delay. Mr. Fulton has therefore ordered an investigation to find out how the law is working.

It was said, when the present legislation was put on the statute books, that it would destroy many small retailers throughout the country. This has not happened. On the other hand, though its effect was bound to be limited during a period of rapid inflation, the law undoubtedly has tended to operate against unnecessary price increases. At least it has given the retailer the chance to hold down prices to the lowest possible margin if he could, and wanted to do so.

France and Germany in China

WITHIN RECENT DAYS TWO important economic teams have gone to Peking — one from West Germany the other from France.

The members of these teams have been drawn from high levels of West German and French life. Their activities have been shrouded in secrecy.

General speculation fixes their objectives as the establishment of closer trade relationships between Red China and their respective countries, with possible offers of economic aid to the Mao Tse-tung regime. The value of such missions to Red China is apparent, whether or not that country is in a position to broaden trade with the outside world—a prospect doubtful because China at this time has a limited number of products for export.

The mere presence of French and West German negotiators in the Chinese republic, however, provides the Chinese with a valuable bargaining counter in dealings with Russia, whose prices have come high in those deals which have been made. There is every indication that the West Germans and French are seeking to break the near monopoly Russia has established on Chinese trade.

But the repercussions of the visits will probably extend considerably beyond arrangements for the exchange of goods and offers of technical and material help to China in construction of railways and development of hydro power.

Moreover if West Germany or France make arrangements to extend long-term credits to the People's Republic, fresh embarrassment looms for the United States. Assuming such agreements are made, then additional pressures could be created to give Red China fuller recognition among the nations of the world and membership in the United Nations.

The hand of Red China is apparently being strengthened. The position of the United States against recognition of the government of the world's largest single nation is being weakened.

A Matter of Citizenship

NEWCOMERS TO THIS COUNTRY from lands where political freedom is only a memory or a future hope will be excused an expression of astonishment at the casual manner in which many Canadians treat the franchise.

They will find it hard to understand, for instance, why so far only 600 citizens have registered for city voting, apart from property owners who are automatically listed. Last year more than 2,500 householders, spouses or trades licence holders made sure they would be eligible to vote in city elections. With slightly more than a week left in which to register, less than one-quarter of this total has done so, and this despite the fact that some thousands additional were expected to turn up as the result of a broadened franchise.

Betting on a Four-Card Straight

THE ACTION OF THE PETERBOROUGH lacrosse team will have no great influence on the affairs of men, but it certainly can have done little for the game at which the Ontario club excels.

The Eastern Canadian champions refused to play in the Mann Cup finals unless one of their stars, ruled ineligible because he signed contracts with two different teams this season, was allowed to take the floor.

The Peterborough club had been given adequate warning that it could not use the disputed player. When the team said the man would play or there would be no game, and left the floor, it was playing risky poker. The Peterborough team was betting a four-card straight. Its bluff was called and Peterborough lost.

The cost to the club is severe. Its players and certain officials have been suspended for five years, its bond for the play-off forfeited, the living expenses of its contingent here cut off and return transportation withdrawn.

When any team assumes that it dominates a game to the extent that the sport's governing body has to knuckle under, discipline is in order.

Whether or not charges of earlier laxity can be proved against the Canadian Lacrosse Association is beside the point. The association has acted firmly on this occasion and has earned respect by its action.

Salesman's Mission

HON. GORDON CHURCHILL, minister of trade and commerce, in a bid to increase Canadian wheat sales in Britain and on the European continent headed a sales mission that left Ottawa for London last Monday. He was accompanied by W. C. McNamara, assistant chief commissioner of the Wheat Board; W. Riddell, commissioner, and W. J. Brooking, general sales manager. Mr. Churchill will return Sept. 27.

Mackie

Decision to send the selling mission abroad followed the Canadian cabinet's action in setting up a committee of three ministers to explore avenues for accelerated sales of Canadian wheat. On the committee are Mr. Churchill, Hon. Douglas Harkness, minister of agriculture and Hon. Alvin Hamilton, minister of northern affairs and national resources.

Mr. Churchill said the purpose of his trip "is to meet members of the grain trade abroad who buy our product and to endeavour as part of our accelerated sales program to promote more sales of wheat. I will also make contact with our Canadian trade commissioners."

"Our aim is to regain our fair share of world trade in wheat and flour. Europe accounts for a very high percentage of that trade," he said before his departure.

Canada wheat sales in 1956-57 to Britain, which is not a member of the International Wheat Agreement, were down somewhat from the previous year. They totalled 91,000,000 bushels compared with 108,000,000 bushels in 1955-56.

Rt. Hon. D. Heathcoat Amory, Britain's minister of agriculture food and fisheries was in Ottawa last week. He told members of the cabinet that they could look for a slight increase in sales of wheat to Britain this year. The Canadian government stressed the need for Britain to step up its wheat purchases.

Mr. Amory explained the drop in purchases from Canada in 1956-57 was not due to a dollar shortage. Britain had obtained part of its imports from the United States because the protein content of American wheat last year was higher than Canadian. However this was an unusual situation and this year's wheat crop in Canada is reported to be higher in protein content which should lead to higher Canadian sales, he said.

Inspection Tour

Hon. Gordon Churchill, minister of trade and commerce and his parliamentary assistant Thomas Bell, M.P. for St. John, N.B. made a tour of the section of the across-Canada gas pipeline from the Manitoba border to Port Arthur, last week. They were very favorably impressed.

Indications are that the new Canadian government will now do nothing to interfere with the completion of the all-Canada gas pipeline. CCF members in the House will condemn the private ownership of the trans-Canada section of the line and advocate public ownership at the next session. But they won't get anywhere in the House.

As Our Readers See It

All in a Cup of Coffee

In reply to a letter in the Sept. 16 issue of your paper signed "Not A Millionaire" re the price per cup of coffee in restaurants.

The opinions expressed by the writer on this subject are typical of a sizeable percentage of the public. This was borne out by a recent newspaper poll in which most of the people polled felt that coffee should not go up in price. If the same group were polled as to whether their daily newspaper should be increased in price it is not unlikely that their answer would again be in the negative.

I would like to point out that the restaurant industry is a service industry, and is engaged in selling the public a service. In this case the service involves preparing a brewed cup of coffee from raw ingredients, complete with cream and sugar. The finished product is then served in a place where the consumer may sit down for any reasonable length of time to drink his beverage.

The customer is provided with a cup, saucer, spoon, pitcher of cream, sugar, paper napkins, an ash tray, a glass of water if he requests one, and even on occasion a match to light his cigarette and a look at the morning paper. All this frequently involves a substantial investment in equipment and furniture to insure the customer of comfort and service.

If the price per pound of coffee was reduced still further it would make little difference to the finished cost of a cup of coffee, as a pound will provide from forty to fifty cups. In an earnest effort to enlighten this gentleman and those who may require a better understanding of the restaurant operator's problems, let me respectfully point out that in addition to the price of ground coffee one must add the following costs in order to arrive at the price per serving of the finished brew.

Coffee, cream, sugar, rent, wages, light and power, business tax, (at the new rates of course), laundry and cleaning, paper supplies, advertising, unemployment insurance, workmen's compensation, telephone, repairs and replacements of dishes and glasses, and numerous other items.

A survey of well operated restaurants throughout the country show that in most instances the finished cost of a cup of coffee is eight and a half cents, leaving the operator a profit before income tax of one and a half cents. Many of the more elaborate restaurants are showing a loss on coffee sales and have figures to prove it.

Amalgamation and Debt

In any form of amalgamation what to do with the existing debts of Victoria and Saanich will cause much controversy. What is the debt situation and how can the existing debt be apportioned so that all areas will be treated as fairly as possible?

Victoria's gross debt in round figures is $11,400,000 or a gross per capita debt of about $209. After deducting amounts taken care of by the metro water board and local improvements (but still debt) the net per capita debt works out at about $165.

FROM BRZEG, POLAND

'You Can't Force Farmers'

IN THIS little Silesian town with a name half-way between a sneeze and a curse, the old German population was driven out and Poles poured in only 12 years ago. The transformation has been radical; and it is nowhere more apparent than in the fallen house of the town's rich man of the German times. The ornate, hideous stucco is cracked and peeling. The once manicured lawns are shaggy. The grand drawing room has become a meeting place for farm managers. For this is now the headquarters of the Brzeg Union of State Farms.

This reporter and his interpreter were led to the State Farm Headquarters by tourist happenstance, as a result of a casual roadside meeting with a band of peasants who were lifting a poorish potato crop. But Poles, apparently, would not be surprised or discommoded even by the arrival of visitors from the other side of the moon with a lunatic interest in the state of Polish agriculture.

At any rate, the burly, intelligent young Director of the State Farm Union, Fryderyk-Lyczak, greeted us like long-lost brothers. So we spent a long, happy day among manure piles, in cow barns and in piggeries, learning what has happened to farming in the county of Brzeg.

Progress Made

A lot has happened, and almost all of it has been good since Wladyslaw Gomulka set Polish farming free in October a year ago.

The 10,000 acres of Director Lyczak's State Farm Union are of course state-owned and state-managed to this day. But the great change in Poland has meant almost as much to this state enterprise as to the thousands of Brzeg County peasants who have got their own land back from the detested collectivists.

It did not matter whether one talked to Director Lyczak, who is a Communist and certainly won't be first appointment to the party; or to his agronomist, Jerze Ochman, a serious, older man with a deep love of the land and no love for politics; or to the farm managers who are also party members or to those who were not. The story was always the same.

"Now that we've got rid of the damn crazy system before October," Lyczak burst out, "we can do the kind of job our land deserves. And it is wonderful land, I tell you that."

"We don't have to grow any more damned corn because it's the line to grow corn; only corn for silage now is our system." "By next year we won't be using the best wheat land in Poland to grow potatoes for pig feed because it's the line to increase pig production."

"No more destroying the land with foot-

Production Up

Since October, the animal population of the county has already increased by at least 50 per cent. The area plowed has gone up by a probable 20 per cent. The milk-collecting station in Brzeg town, which could never collect anything like its planned capacity in the past, is now desperately struggling with an actual glut of milk which it cannot handle. And so it goes.

"There is nothing like the Polish peasants' passion for the land," said Ochman over a final cup of coffee in his simple apartment. "Just set a Polish peasant free to farm and he'll farm 'till he drops. If we do a good job with our state farms, I think our peasants will enter voluntary co-operatives later on, because this Silesian land really repays large-scale mechanized agriculture. But you can't force farmers; you can't force farmers."

Copyright, 1957, New York Herald Tribune Inc.

Saanich has managed to keep its debt at a reasonable level. The net debt appears to be about $3,500,000 or a net per capita debt of $91.

If the proposed new unit consisting of Victoria and Saanich took over this debt then of course the per capita debt of Saanich tax-payers would rise. Possibly some formula could be found whereby this would not happen but the report prepared for the Chamber of Commerce warns against any special concessions being made to any particular area as regards taxation.

However, the report does suggest that services would be increased in Saanich and if these were extensive enough it might well more than make up the debt differences.

A considerable portion of Victoria's debt was caused by the city taking over much of the local improvement debts of some years ago. It has been suggested that one way to help equalize the difference between Victoria and Saanich debt would be for the new city to take over the local improvement debts of Saanich. For instance, the sewer payments, and others.

This last would undoubtedly cause much dispute but there is no valid reason why, if it were desirable, a solution equitable to all could not be worked out.

There would certainly have to be a lot of give and take in any solution to this debt problem by the proposed new unit. Many factors would enter in and even at best not all would be satisfied.

Victoria intends to raise about $460,000 this year with its business tax. A goodly portion of this comes from the other municipalities. Therefore, if union comes about, some of this would flow back to Saanich which would be a help.

Centennial Trip

FOR once, I'm a jump ahead of the crowd—because I am taking my "centennial trip" this year, and if the weather stays fine and my money holds out, I'll not be back 'til the end of September.

I chose to go through central and northern B.C. because I'd never been north of Quesnel, and I was curious about this part of the province.

In the words of an old man in a hotel lobby at Prince George, "It's a big country, and you're only halfway up it at Prince George. There she is, that great big north-land just waiting to be developed—waiting. Just waiting. You've not seen anything until you've seen the Peace, the mighty Peace, the only river to cut clear through the Rockies."

"I'm glad we were moved up to this part of the province," said a tall woman I talked to by the Hudson's Bay store in Prince George. "It's one thing learning history out of books. Here you see it—the start of our history. Fort McLeod. You mustn't miss Fort McLeod. Get across the river if you can and see the original site. When you see the Crooked River alongside the highway, you'll understand what the river meant to the fur traders. The river was their road."

"You can feel the whole place sort of bursting and bubbling," said the new-found friend who drove me from Dawson Creek to Fort St. John. "Take these Taylor Flats. A year ago it was farmland. Now look at the houses. Subdivisions... theatre. Refineries and scrubbing plant. Two pipelines crossing the river besides this road bridge and along there, at the bend, is the new railroad bridge."

It's true. As I sit writing in a hotel room in Fort St. John I can hear the continual roar of heavy trucks going by. Down in the lobby men are talking natural gas and oil and construction and the railroad coming in.

There is an excitement in the air, and an atmosphere that is quite unknown to most of us in Victoria.

My head is filling up with impressions, and my little black book is bursting with notes. I've exhausted one ballpoint pen already, and it'll take me months to sort this material into suitable column form.

Already the early part of the journey—the restful sleep on the midnight boat from Victoria, the comfortable, scenic trip on the PGE, the ease of the flight by CPA—seem very far away.

Thanks to the government surveyors based at Tudyah Lake, I've flown in their Beaver airplane along the Rocky Mountain Trench to Finlay Forks; I've seen the work the Beaver does taking supplies to survey camps on the Parsnip, Finlay and Peace; I've seen what MacKenzie must have seen when he came to the confluence of these rivers and went up the Parsnip in his search for the river that led to the Pacific.

To me, there are two main aspects of this trip—the historical associations of the area where the fur traders first came overland, and the stirring industrial development of the present.

Down in Victoria it's hard to believe what's happening here in our north.

Shingles in Old People

Dr. Walter C. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation

Hundreds of people ask about shingles. They are blisters that usually follow the course of a nerve. The trouble is due to a viral inflammation in the little ganglion on one of the roots of the nerve. Authorities believe that this virus is the same one that produces chicken-pox in children.

The medical name is herpes, and these little blisters can come anywhere on the body. Many people get a herpetic blister or two on their upper lip whenever they have a cold. This suggests that some of us carry the virus about with us much of the time. Only occasionally will it cause trouble. That people can carry viruses around with them was shown during the early days of exploration, when sailors arriving in the South Seas, after months of travel, would give the natives measles and smallpox and other epidemic diseases.

Fortunately, in young people, the blisters of herpes soon dry up, and that is usually the end of the trouble, but in older people, shingles can be followed by a very painful neuralgia, which may persist for many months. Then, only strong pain-killers can do any good. Injections of a drug called Protamide will sometimes help. Several people have written me to say that they got some help when their doctor sprayed the painful area with ethyl chloride that freezes the skin and thereby temporarily anesthetizes it. Others said that they got help when the doctor injected an anesthetic solution of procaine under the skin. Most said they got no benefit from anything, even from operations in which a nerve was cut. An English physician writes that it helps to apply a vibrator to the affected area.

What I fear is that usually the pain is not arising in the affected area but high up in the brain or the spinal cord where the physician can hardly get at it.

CUSHING'S DISEASE AND HYPOTHYROIDISM

One of the most remarkable illnesses I have ever seen is Cushing's disease, in which a little tumor forms in one of the suprarenal glands which lies just above the kidney. This tumor produces what is called a virilizing, or male-producing hormone which,

By DR. WALTER C. ALVAREZ

in a few months, can change a pretty girl into a fat, coarse-looking woman with hair on her face, and a big abdomen with large striations on it. A miracle happens when the little tumor is removed and the ugly, coarse-looking and fat woman is changed back quickly into a pretty, trimly-built girl.

Another disease which can change a child into a coarse-looking, fat and pudgy-faced individual is a loss of function in the thyroid gland. I remember one day seeing in the hall of my building a mother with a dwarfed child who was as typical a pudgy and stupid-looking cretin as I had ever seen. Her eyes were slits between thickened lids, and her tongue was too big for her mouth. I prayed a little prayer that they would come into my office and, sure enough, they did. The girl was about 15 and had been too stupid to go to school. Because she felt like the princess imprisoned in a tree by a bad witch she would often go into terrible tantrums of rage and frustration.

Unfortunately, no one had ever recognized what was wrong with her; they thought she was just feeble-minded. Within six weeks after I put her on thyroid substance she had lost her excess weight and had grown taller. Within a few months she was a pretty girl, bright and keen, and going to high school. She called me her father because I had given her a second life. I am sorry this miracle cannot be performed for the 95 per cent of mentally retarded children whose thyroid gland is normal.

DIAPHRAGMATIC HERNIA

Many people, on being X-rayed after a barium meal, are told they have a bit of stomach up in their chest. It goes up through the hole alongside the gullet, where it comes down through the midriff, or diaphragm. In probably 95 per cent of the cases, this hernia can be disregarded because either it isn't producing symptoms, or it is producing so few symptoms that the patient can get along very nicely. Today, few surgeons care to operate on these things, unless the patient is suffering great distress. I haven't had such a patient operated on in many years. In most cases, I could say to the person, "If you'll take off some of the fat from your abdomen you'll be comfortable. Also, you may be comfortable if you don't try to lace your shoes after eating a good-sized meal, or if it may help greatly not to lie down after a big dinner. The thing to remember is that one doesn't have to rush off to an operating room simply because one has a little hernia in the diaphragm."

HOME GARDEN

No Digging Works, See for Yourself

A reader of this column, Mr. W. Watkins, covered a plot with sawdust two years ago, and this year seed potatoes without any digging or cultivating.

Resulting crop has amazed him that he is inviting interested gardeners to call at 226 St. Charles Street this weekend to see for themselves that there is still much to be learned about plants and soil.

This is another instance which proves we cannot be dogmatic about the growing of plants.

Even today, with all our recently discovered knowledge, we still know very little about the soil in which plants grow and why they grow.

We believe certain processes are essential to their well-being, such as the thorough preparation of the soil and the prevention of wilting after transplanting.

It was a severe jolt when the no-digging cult expressed the belief that the crust nature has put on the soil should not be disturbed. Their claims that most of our gardening troubles come from deep digging were directly opposed to age-old beliefs.

The theory that plants should be allowed to wilt after transplanting so that damaged roots would be more quickly replaced was something few gardeners could condone.

And after a lifetime of backaches from plying the hoe to keep the surface loose and weed free, we were shocked at the thought of covering the soil with sawdust.

We may not approve of these radical departures from time-honored custom, but the results in many instances prove that we still have lots to learn.

U.K. Liberals Ponder How to Exploit Gains

LONDON (CP) — Britain's Liberals are confronted with an opportunity and a dilemma as they meet at Southport today for their annual convention.

The opportunity is seen in the growing support their candidates have received in recent by-elections. The dilemma is posed by the problem of exploiting their gains.

Liberal ranks in the 630-seat House of Commons have shrunk to five members, of whom four were elected in 1955 in seats uncontested by Conservative candidates. But Labor and Conservative sympathizers agree that even a minor shift to a losing Liberal candidate could endanger their hold on a number of marginal seats.

NEGATIVE CAMPAIGN

In the by-elections the Liberals made considerably headway with an essentially negative campaign, attacking the government chiefly for its failure to control inflation and belaboring the opposition for its socialist views.

The effectiveness of their arguments is reflected in the last three by-elections in which they participated. The Conservative total dropped more than 23,000 votes below the 1955 poll and Labor supporters decreased by 4,000. The Liberal vote showed a total increase of 16,500.

The question before the Liberal conference is whether to risk alienating some of their new supporters by working out a party program or to gamble on the growing protest vote.

In a political climate in which it is often difficult to spot clear differences between government and opposition, the Liberals will find it almost impossible to demonstrate their claim that they offer a middle course between the two.

The once controversial issue of a national health service, nationalized railways and coal mines, reductions in defence expenditure and efforts to reduce East-West tension all are espoused by Conservative and Labor members alike. Labor's fervor for increased nationalization is weakening and only the outer fringe of the Conservative party has any taste for repetition of the Suez adventure.

The problem of Liberal policymakers is that they have virtually nowhere to go with

Bank Rate Up In U.K. As Curb On Borrowing

LONDON (Reuters)—Britain today raised her bank rate by two per cent to seven per cent.

This drastic move—a curb on borrowing—was expected to be only the forerunner of a determined new series of government measures to stem inflation and strengthen the pound sterling.

The bank rate governs the general level of borrowing interest. A rise therefore restricts credit by making all loans and mortgages dearer.

It was in contrast to the decision Wednesday by booming West Germany to lower her bank rate by a half per cent.

The new rate is the highest since 1920 when it also stood at seven per cent.

Treasury chief Peter Thorneycroft at the same time announced new restrictions on public and private spending.

He said the government proposed to hold down investment by government departments, municipal authorities, and the nationalized industries (coal, gas and electricity, transport, civil aviation).

This expenditure had been planned to rise substantially during the next two years.

Thorneycroft said the government will take all necessary measures to control the supply of money to private borrowers.

Banks were told, he said, that the average level of advances made during the next 12 months must be held at the average level for the last 12 months.

The government's bid to tighten the economy comes as pressure on the pound sterling in foreign exchange markets is increasing. The rate of the pound against the United States dollar has fallen again to the point where Britain must support it.

This means using gold and dollars to buy up pounds in foreign markets—a drain on Britain's already dwindling gold and dollar reserves.

John D. Denies Appointment With Krupp

OTTAWA (BUP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's office Wednesday denied rumors that German industrialist Alfred Krupp would meet with the prime minister next week.

Browning Backs 'Town' Status

COURTENAY—Reversion of the city to the status of town, with a saving of $11,000, has the support of Mayor Geoffrey Browning.

Speaking before the Rotary Club here, he said there was no prestige value in the title of city, and that "it's what you are that counts, not what you are called."

As a town under the new Municipal Act, he said, Courtenay would not be responsible for police costs, and the number of aldermen would be cut from six to four.

IMPROVEMENTS

He suggested that the $11,000 saving should be turned into civic improvements rather than a tax cut. Government grant of $16 per capita would remain the same under the new status, he said.

An employee for 25 years with Comox Logging Company, Nurmi died of apoplexy as he fell into the bathtub, a doctor testified. There were no bruises on the body sufficient to have caused death and no water was in the tub.

Testimony indicated he had been drinking heavily before his disappearance and had suffered from high blood pressure.

Defence Minister Gives 'Time of Day' to Nanaimo

NANAIMO—Thanks to Defence Minister George Pearkes, VC, Public Works Minister Howard Green, and the Friendship Club of Nanaimo, the city once again will have a town clock.

For years a faithful old clock in its tower in the old post office kept Nanaimo on time, and became as much of a landmark as the building itself.

Came the time, however, when the old building could no longer do its job, and it was replaced by a new post office and federal building, opened in February, 1956.

FINE, BUT . . .

It is a fine modern building but—no clock. Not was their provision made for a clock.

When the old building was demolished Ald. Phil Piper bought the clock and gave it to the city, with the hope that it would find a new home, but it still rests in the city hall basement.

Interest in civic time-keeping was roused immediately it was learned the old post office would be replaced, and it kept increasing, with various groups writing letters and sending telegrams to Ottawa, but to no avail.

Most recent effort to have a clock back in business was that sparked by Alfred Ashman of the Friendship Club for old-timers, who had the backing of several groups in writing to Mr. Green about the local situation.

PEARKES PROMISED

At the same time Maj.-Gen. Pearkes was interviewed in person here, and he promised to help.

This week Mr. Ashman was informed by Mr. Green that the government architect in Vancouver had been ordered to go to Nanaimo and find a suitable place to install a clock. It was not specified whether "a clock" would be the old veteran languishing in the city hall, but at least the battle has been won for a timepiece of some kind.

NEPTUNES TO REPLACE LANCS BY NEXT SPRING

COMOX—Twin-engine Neptune aircraft will replace Lancasters at the RCAF station here next spring, according to Air Commodore A. D. Ross, commander of the RCAF 5th Air Division in Vancouver.

The Lancasters, flown by the maritime squadron here, are among the last of the type in use in the world.

Ultimately, the Neptune will be replaced by the Argus, four-engine turboprop aircraft and largest operated by the RCAF.

60% of Potatoes From B.C. Growers

NANAIMO (CP)—Only 60 per cent of the B.C. potato market is supplied by B.C. growers, Don Wilson, vice-president of the B.C. Coast Vegetable Marketing Board, told members of the Nanaimo branch of the Canadian Association of Consumers Tuesday.

Mr. Wilson said that potato production had become big business and a few large growers were supplying the bulk of the market.

On Vancouver Island four growers supplied more than 50 per cent of the potatoes consumed on the island.

MUST HAVE SHARE

Nevertheless all growers large or small had a share in the market and 90 per cent of the growers were behind the co-operative marketing scheme.

Many of the faults in potatoes reaching the consumer had been traced to imported potatoes, he said.

The board is seeking federal legislation which would require U.S. potato containers to be conspicuously marked with the country of origin.

The U.S. market sets the price of B.C. potatoes and a tariff of $7.50 a ton imposed by Canada this year gives the B.C. grower a slightly better price than he received before.

DOOR MYSTERY SOLVED IT'S OPEN-SHUT CASE

CHICAGO (AP) — Charles Klein moved his men's furnishing business to a newly remodelled shop two weeks ago and in the bustle attendant upon the transfer forgot one detail, which is costing him $60 a night.

All of Klein's $100,000 worth of merchandise was in the new shop when a clerk pointed out the place had no front door.

Every night now two city policemen off duty sit in the doorway until 9 a.m. when the shop opens. Klein pays each man $30 a night.

The new door, specially built, has been on order for about two weeks.

'Ike Two-Faced' Satchmo Charges

GRAND FORKS, N.D. (AP) — "It's getting almost so bad a colored man hasn't any country," says trumpet player Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong.

Armstrong, here for a concert, said he is dropping plans for a government-backed trip to Russia "because the way they are treating my people in the south, the government can go to hell."

Armstrong said President Eisenhower is "two-faced," has "no guts," and is letting Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus "run the country." He said Faubus is "an uneducated plow boy."

The negro trumpet player, shown a published copy of an interview in which he made those remarks, said: "That's just fine. Don't take nothing out of that story. That's just what I said and still say."

"But don't get me wrong," he told a Grand Forks Herald reporter. "The south is full of intelligent white people. It's bad the lower class people make all the noise, though."

In Washington, the state department had no comment. But officials said Soviet propagandists probably will seize upon Armstrong's words because the Reds already have been pounding away at integration troubles as indicative of American intolerance toward negroes.

Laborers Win 36-Cent Boost In Long Fight

Approval by 3,000 laborers, including 1,200 on Vancouver Island, of a 36-cent-an-hour wage boost spread over 18 months is expected to settle an eight-month dispute Friday.

Negotiations have concluded between 18 heavy construction companies and the Construction and General Laborers' Union, Victoria Labor Council was told Wednesday night.

About 1,000 members of the Tunnel and Rock Workers' Union also will get wage boosts from the agreement.

Par Competition

Uplands Golf Club ladies held their monthly par competition Wednesday in two divisions and par came out the winner as Mrs. W. S. Smith won the "A" division one down.

A tie was recorded in the "B" division with Mrs. F. G. Hope and Mrs. J. C. Keane both coming in one down.

BUTLER WORKOUT

Victoria and District Football Association entry Butler Brothers will hold a workout to night at Central Park at 7 p.m. for any interested in playing soccer this season.

Red Wings Clip

Flyer Farmhands

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (CP)—Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League defeated Edmonton Flyers 3-1 Wednesday night in the second of their four training camp exhibition games.

Tom McCarthy, Lorne Ferguson and John Wilson scored for the Wings as they spread their goals over three periods. Ray Kinasewich shot Edmonton, the Wings' farm club in the Western Hockey League into a temporary 1-1 tie in the first.

Each team had 16 shots on goal in the tight-checking contest.

NOT IN SHAPE, POLLARD QUILTS CALGARY SQUAD

CALGARY (CP)—Fullback Al Pollard, who came to Calgary Stampede via the B.C. Lions, announced Wednesday night he has quit the Western Interprovincial Football Union team because he was not in playing condition and because minor ailments were plaguing him.

Stampeder coach Otis Douglas also announced that another fullback, 22-year-old Don Caraway, an import from Houston University, had been suspended and that Canadian tackle Jack Lamb was placed on waivers. Reason given for Caraway's suspension was his poor playing condition.

Pollard, who last season was a standout with Lions, has not seen much action with Stamps this year.

CLOWN PRINCE OF GOLF

Joe Amazes, Amuses Fans

By GRAHAM COX

The biggest, most hilarious bag of tricks in golf history was opened at the Victoria Golf Club Wednesday when the "clown prince of golf," Joe Kirkwood, spelled-bound close to 300 onlookers with his exhibition wizardry, home-spun humor and match-play shotmaking in a benefit for the Queen Alexandra Solarium.

The Australian-born shot-maker used everything but the club television antenna in more than an hour of off-hand philosophizing and golfing genius that swept the gallery first to the edge of laughing hysteria and then to the brink of amazement.

Defying every rule ever recorded for the golfer, Kirkwood played each shot as though it was controlled by wires.

Proving first that he knew his way around a golf course when the strokes counted, the Jack Benny-aged master teamed up with club assistant, Laurie Carroll in a best-ball match with club champion Dr. George Bigelow and a Jasper Totem Pole Tournament winner Gordon Verley.

All four players broke par. Carroll and Dr. Bigelow came home with 34s, two strokes behind Kirkwood, while Verley posted a 35 for the nine holes.

FOUR UNDER PAR

He quickly demonstrated that one golf course is pretty much like any other when you have all the shots as he birdied the first four holes of an unorthodox nine, parred the next four and bogied the last.

With par figures for the nine holes totalling 36, Kirkwood shaved four strokes off the total on his first circuit ever on the course, finishing with a dazzling 32 that included a 10-foot opening putt and a 15-footer in the 8th, really the 17th.

Back on the exhibition tee, he spiced every shot with side-splitting homilies and repartee with the gallery as well as sound tee tips.

His whole golfing philosophy revolves itself around the one sentence, "Golfing is a game for relaxing and fun, and the only way to enjoy it properly and play it well is to relax."

"PLAY YOUR OWN WAY"

"Stop a while and smell the flowers," he suggests. "Why take out all your working frustrations on a golf ball at the club and then go home and take out your golfing frustrations on the family?"

"Don't try and imitate someone else, be yourself and play in your own way. A good grip or stance for me would never work for you just as yours would never work for me."

Poking fun at everybody from the ladies to the duffers, Sunday golfers and professionals, Kirkwood debunked the theory that while making a shot the golfer must always keep his eye on the ball by driving out arrow-straight shots while gazing everywhere but at the ball as though he had eyes in the head of his club.

He used everything from a two-foot driver to a giant nine-footer, one with a rhinoceros-hide shaft and another with a shaft made of malleable lead that wrapped around his neck in his follow-through.

Out of his bag the former Australian and Canadian open titlist, who travels more than 80,000 miles a year and plays in as many as eight cities a week, pulled clubs dating back more than 80 years and proved that they were just as good today as the man using them.

Miss Colleen's Mark Forgotten in Shuffle

By CENTAUR

Sandown Park racetrack held its place Wednesday as one of the nicest places to be these fine autumn days.

Every one of the seven races was exciting. Enough favorites or near-favorites won, to please the crowd of bettors, and for the chance-takers, a couple of horses cracked down to return double figures.

One of these, Miss Colleen, in the second race was a glaring overlay. She holds the record for the six-furlong course at the track and was running in a common plater.

She won with something to spare to pay $11.60 to win and, coupled with Larks Fly, made a $12.20 quinella.

The touted horse in the day's program, George Did, ran third and had to come from far back to do it.

NEVER LOST LEAD

Nearest thing to an easy win was hung up in the featured handicap, the sixth, by Never Out, a three-year-old filly who, although going against older horses, took the lead soon after the start and was never headed, winning by lengths.

Our Butch was second, scarcely ever threatened for that spot; but I thought Junando who came third should have done better. They switched jockeys on him, Halter replacing Williams, the former started his move about an eighth of a mile too late, one of his frequent failings since he came back to the races after a layoff.

Outstanding performance of the day was that of Flying Ab-

Chapman in Quest Of Raw Material

VANCOUVER (CP)—Art Chapman, manager-coach of Vancouver Canucks of the Western Hockey League, left Wednesday for Providence, R.I., scene of the New York Rangers' training camp.

He hopes to pick up the raw materials to shore up the sides of a Vancouver club that sagged like a tent in a typhoon last year. The immediate requirement, he said, is five forwards.

"Fin Flon and Guelph, Ranger junior clubs, had the two strongest junior teams in Canada last year and they will be sending about nine over-age kids to Rangers' camp."

Trio Cheat Death At Rail Crossing

(From CP DISPATCHES)

MCBRIDE—Three young people narrowly escaped death when their late-model car was struck by a west-bound freight train at Valemount, 59 miles east of here.

The train struck the rear of the car, throwing the two passengers out. Injured seriously was driver Bart Moore, 22, of Valemount. Joyce Tibbles of Quesnel and Jack Hardie of Valemount are in satisfactory condition in McBride district hospital.

$72,600 COMPENSATION

VANCOUVER — Owners of the West End properties expropriated by the CBC were awarded $72,600 compensation Wednesday by Mr. Justice J. T. Thorson, president of the Exchequer Court.

Rooming houses occupy the sites. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hoar, originally claimed $129,920. The CBC offered $66,000.

SENTENCE REDUCED — VANCOUVER — Sentence on Gilbert Campbell, 50, fire department lieutenant convicted of dealing with a forged document, was reduced Wednesday to five years from seven by the court of appeal.

Campbell was sentenced April 16 for dealing with the $900,000 will of hotel owner James Thompson knowing it to be forged.

Justices Sidney Smith, J. M. Coady and F. A. Sheppard, who heard the appeal, gave no reason for the decision.

HOSPITAL PROJECT VOTED

NELSON — Property owners Wednesday passed overwhelmingly a $170,000 by-law authorizing borrowing of funds to complete construction of a fourth floor of the new Kootenay Lake General Hospital here.

Affirmative votes totalled 831 and negative votes 132. A 60-per-cent majority was required.

TOT FOUND UNHARMED

PRINCE GEORGE — A 3½-year-old boy, object of a four-hour search, was found unhurt at dusk Tuesday on the Gliscome Highway six miles south-east of here and a mile from his home.

About 100 searchers combed thick bushland for Lloyd Woodland, missing from his farm home since 3 p.m.

TV STATION OPERATING

KELOWNA — The Kelowna television station began broadcasting test patterns Wednesday afternoon.

CHBC-TV's general manager Roy Chapman said he was quite pleased with the channel 2 test.

The signal was reaching Penticton and Vernon.

CHILD CUSTODY CASE

VANCOUVER — Hearing of an application for custody of Patsy Gieger, 10, was adjourned in Supreme Court chambers Wednesday until Sept. 25.

Patsy is an orphan who has been a pupil at New Denver school for Doukhobor children for 2½ years.

Her maternal aunt, Helen Antifev of Crescent Valley, is seeking to be appointed guardian.

NEW PRESIDENT of the United Nations 12th General Assembly, now in session, is Sir Leslie Munro, of New Zealand. He was named after Charles Malik of Lebanon, another favored candidate, dropped out of the race for the sake of unity. (NEA.)

CUT PAY REQUEST

KITIMAT — The steelworkers union has lowered its pay raise request by five cents to 35 cents an hour in conciliation negotiations with the Aluminum Company of Canada.

"The general increase applied for may appear large but we have shown it would do no more than establish a base rate generally similar to that prevailing in the industry in the U.S.," a union spokesman said. Quoting lengthy lists of Alcan's assets and net profits, the union asserted there is "no question of ability to pay."

Drugs Killed Wife—He Hunts Pushers

VANCOUVER (CP) — An informer who "hates" dope peddlers says he is responsible for the arrest Wednesday of 12 of the 21 suspected narcotic traffickers rounded up in Vancouver's second major purge of drug handlers in six months.

He told a reporter that dope "pushers"—the men and women who peddle drugs—killed his wife and were responsible for his losing his children. He said the RCMP pays him $50 for each pusher convicted. He needs the money to get his coat from a pawn shop and to pay his back rent.

The informer claims to have worked in Calgary and Edmonton turning in pushers since 1948 when he returned from the air force and found his wife an addict. She died two years later. His children have been adopted in Winnipeg.

TOP SECRET

The roundup followed an investigation so secret that two police undercover men on the case were unaware of each other's activities. Last March RCMP and city police raided and although only 30, looking known underworld haunts and put 24 suspected pushers behind bars.

The latest purge found two RCMP and city police raided and Harry Oosthoek, both from Eastern Canada, working independently in Vancouver's underworld haunts. Officials said that in some cases they unknowingly collected evidence against the same suspects.

Bail for one of the suspects, who appeared in police court here today was set at $12,000. Three others will have to post $10,000.

The informer said he was not an addict himself though he had to take dope to win the confidence of the traffickers. He took only small amounts.

GOT KNOCKOUT SHOT

He said a pusher tried to "get him" last June when he posed as an addict. He took the needle and the next thing he knew he was in hospital. The needle contained not heroin but chloralhydrate, a powerful sedative. He was found unconscious in a washroom.

The informer—short, pale, him again." Another informer, from Nova Scotia, works in Vancouver too, the man said. He uses medicine to make the pupils of his eyes contract. Small pupils are one of the tell-tale effects of dope. The first informer said it was not difficult to buy narcotics wholesale in Vancouver.

Grandstand performers:

...and Chevy!

"Look at it this way," says Bob Hope. "If I were a car I'd want to give a performance like Chevrolet's. It's tremendous!" The star of "Canadiana", the Canadian National Exhibition Grandstand Spectacular in Toronto, said "Chevy's so loaded with talent and style, I wanted it — and got it — as the official car for my entrance. Now, I don't like to give another star too much credit. So it's just as well that about the only thing a Chevy doesn't do well is tell jokes. No kidding, though, this Chevrolet is the greatest. It's as sweet to look at as Dorothy Lamour, purrs along as smoothly as Bing's voice, and puts on a really sassy show on any road. I've been going steady with Chevy for years. So should you!"

NOW AT PEACE

Body of Murdered Friend Proves Nightmare Was No Fancy Dream

LONDON (Reuters) — Mrs. Myrtle Hughes today described how her nightmares uncovered a murder.

Night after night, the 42-year-old woman said, she was haunted by a dream in which she saw the murdered body of her best friend, Mrs. Doris Harrison, 32, lying bricked up behind a fireplace.

Mrs. Hughes' husband scoffed at her story but she dreamed on. Finally, she left her home in Chelwood Gate, Sussex, and travelled 50 miles to police in the London neighborhood where Mrs. Harrison lived.

Detective Inspector Harry Cox didn't laugh at the dreams. He went to the Harrison home. In a cupboard he found the body of Mrs. Harrison, dead more than three months. Wednesday the victim's husband, Francis Harrison, 36, was sentenced to life imprisonment for slaying her with an axe.

Today Mrs. Hughes declared:

"Now at least I feel at peace."

Tax Easing Proposal For Alleys, Theatres

City council today was to consider a reduction in trade licence fees now charged bowling alleys and theatres.

Salvage Workers Killed in Blast

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—Ammunition exploded Wednesday in a U.S. ship sunk in the allied landings 15 years ago, killing nine salvage workers. A diver working on the hulk 60 feet below the surface apparently touched off the blast.

The proposal, made by Ald. Hugh Ramsay's business tax and trades licence committee Wednesday, is the first step in a general revision of trade licences.

The revision follows council decision to bill Victoria businessmen with both trade licence and business tax. They will pay whichever is greater.

It is anticipated the charge to bowling alleys will be reduced by 25 per cent and the charge to theatres 33 to 50 per cent. The committee said charges in the past have represented "glaring inequalities."

15,000-Mile Hole Proof 'Fence' For America's Aerial Frontiers

The last of three dispatches filed from the first international press conference organized in Seattle by the newly organized North American Air Defence Command — an organization set up to control all of North America's air defence forces in wartime.

By NORMAN CRIBENS
Times Staff Reporter

SEATTLE, Wash. — Protection of an area of more than 10,000,000 square miles is the ultimate aim of newly organized North American Air Defence Command—a partnership of Canadian and U.S. forces, now known as NORAD.

To do this, NORAD seeks to build and maintain a "fence" along North America's aerial frontiers that will be 15,000 miles long and 10 or 12 miles high.

In the words of a high-ranking U.S. army officer attending NORAD's first international press conference here:

Rat-Proof

"We have to make this fence as nearly hole-proof, leak-proof and rat-proof as possible within the envelope of our resources."

The fence must be proof against the ever-increasing speeds and altitudes of the modern bomber, and it must withstand the attacks of an enemy who would have almost unlimited avenues of approach if he went long-range bombers against North America.

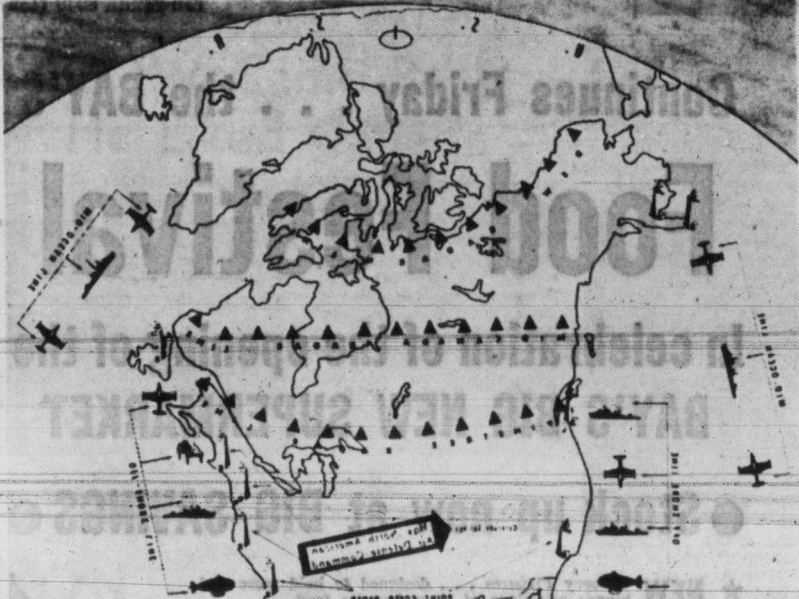

To build this fence NORAD needs an early warning system sufficient both to bring its military defence system up to maximum effectiveness and to alert civil defence systems in both Canada and the U.S.

Four Elements

To provide this early warning there are now four main elements:

1. The Pinetree line located in the U.S. and the populated areas of Canada is a basic radar warning and control system linked with Canadian and U.S. air intercept forces.

2. The Mid-Canada Line, an early warning line along the 55th parallel, supplements the ARTIST'S CONCEPTION of the North American Defence Command continental detection system shows the three "fences" on the land portions of the continent, while off-shore coverage is indicated by the picket ships.

Pinetree system. It consists of a series of unit detection and warning stations at appropriate intervals stretching from the Labrador coast westward.

3. The Distant Early Warning or DEW line is a series of main and auxiliary stations stretching across the Arctic circle from Alaska to Baffin Island.

4. Extensions down both coasts of the continent are needed to prevent outflanking of the transcontinental network by hostile aircraft. These lines are being extended far out to sea by means of picket ships and radar-equipped Lockheed Constellations.

Picket Ships

Coastal picket ships providing seaward radar surveillance are operating off both the east and Texas Towers, airships and radar aircraft. The functioning of this continental series of "fences" involves close co-ordination and co-operation with Canada.

But no fighter aircraft remains a front-line plane for long and the RCAF now plans to replace the CF-100 with a new supersonic long-range all-weather fighter known as the CF-105.

Air Commodore A. D. Ross, commander of the RCAF's 5th Air Division at Vancouver, emphasized that, although the RCAF Air Defence Command is now under the operational control of NORAD, "we are still responsible for our own administration, training and logistics and the procurement of weapons."

$500 BRACELET WORTH $22,000

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—A jewelled bracelet which she bought in India for "somewhat less than $500" has turned out to be the best bargain Mrs. Mildred Burlington ever picked up. She said today that a Des Moines jeweller has appraised the bracelet as an "irreplaceable" art work worth at least $22,000.

Saanich Trio Wins Honors For Rabbits

Three Saanich rabbit breeders won honors at the Lower Fraser Valley rabbit exhibition held at Cloverdale last week.

A. J. Ingram of Greentrees Rabbitry won nine firsts, two seconds and one third with his Satin, Rex and English Spot rabbits. He also won first prize for raw and tanned skins, and second prize for five different articles made of rabbit skins.

Mrs. W. F. Emery of Seabreeze Rabbitry took six first prizes and one second for her five made-up articles. George Bates won three firsts and Mrs. Gordon Ash a second prize.

Standing Patrols to Bar Subs New Strategy for Canadian Navy

OTTAWA (CP)—The navy is adopting a radically new tactical doctrine which would be put into effect immediately at the threat of war.

This revolutionary change in naval tactics would entail standing patrols of destroyers far out in the Atlantic and Pacific to listen for Russian submarines.

In concert with other NATO navies, Canada's fleet would try to form a screen to block off the North Atlantic gap and thus prevent Soviet submarines approaching shipping routes or the North American coast.

DEFENSIVE LINES

This task would be more easily accomplished in the North Atlantic than in the Pacific. The only likely routes for Russian submarines into the open Atlantic would be through the North Atlantic gap between Iceland or Scotland or through Denmark strait separating Iceland and Greenland. There are no such convenient defensive lines in the Pacific.

The new tactical doctrine is dictated by the capability of Russian submarines to hurl nuclear-armed missiles for a distance of at least 500 miles. This means that a submarine could strike at coastal—or inland—cities as effectively as a bomber.

The Royal Canadian Navy's main objective would be to keep enemy submarines well away from the coasts of North America to prevent missile attacks on cities and other targets.

The new doctrine is the biggest change in naval planning since the First World War. Protection of convoys would be only a subsidiary task to that of keeping submarines out of missile range of North American cities.

Passport Loss China Visit Penalty to 42

WASHINGTON (UP)—The state department cracked down Wednesday on 42 American students and a U.S. reporter who visited Red China in defiance of the U.S. ban on travel there.

It announced it would seize the passports of all the students, barring further trips abroad. It also notified William Worthy, Jr., of the Baltimore Afro-American that his passport would not be renewed.

Worthy's attorney threatened to appeal to the courts if necessary.

At the same time, the first of the 42 students to return to the U.S., Earl Richard Williamson, 28, of Berkeley, Calif., said he would be glad to obey a subpoena to appear Sept. 6 before the House committee on un-American activities.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN VICTIM

POW Came Back, He Liked Canada

By TONY DICKASON
As a German prisoner of war in Canada "for six years, two months and 23 days—I didn't count the hours," Eckehart J. Priebe, now 41, liked the country so much he came back.
The former squadron leader of the feared Messerschmitts, now Canadian representative of Lufthansa German Airlines, returned in 1952.
It all started when the native Berliner was knocked out of the skies over Kent, England, at 10:23 a.m., August 31, 1940. He bailed out of his disintegrating fighter and bailed into POW camps.
Mr. Priebe—"most people pronounce it Pree-bee"—was here attending the convention of American Society of Travel Agents at the Empress Hotel, and was due to return to his Toronto home office today.
"They got me in the Battle of Britain," said the blue-eyed gentleman. We had an anniversary recently, did we not?"

Four Kills

Mr. Priebe has four Allied aircraft to his credit.
"I was the first German immigrant to Canada to get a private pilot's licence. I love flying. I hope my company gives me a private craft I can use flitting around Canada."
His wife, Helga, and boy, nine-year-old Bob, "ordinarily he'd be called Klaus," were in Berlin last year and the boy, saw the German president during a parade.
As Mr. Priebe recalls: "A policeman asked him 'how do you like our president?' And Bob said 'He's nice, but not as nice as our Queen.'"
Lufthansa is one of the oldest of German airlines. It was active before the Second World War, was knocked out during the war, and started again in 1955.

Family Spirit

Mr. Priebe said: "We were helped by our competitors to get back on our feet. Even now we have 19 Trans-World Airlines pilots on loan to us. Airlines have a kind of family spirit, so we have this unique feature."
Any difficulty getting into Canada, being a fighter pilot on the other side?
"None," said Mr. Priebe. "Canadian immigration said if you've spent six years in the country and still like it, you are welcome."
He added: "They gave me such a wonderful tour I came back."
He was incarcerated in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.
Mr. Priebe was attached to the German air ministry before fighting over England's skies. In this capacity he frequently met the ill-fated Goering.

Film-Star Type

"Goering was a helluva nice guy. He was like a film star, with medals and white coat, and he was always smoking Virginia cigars."
Mr. Priebe, who likes to be called "Ekky," is proud of his father.
"He's been a Lutheran minister in Berlin 50 years, and is now 86. He's Berlin's oldest bicycle rider and does 2,000 miles a year."

Informal

He's pleased with the lack of formality in this country.
"In Germany, if you want to contact an official by telephone, you practically have to overpower three or four girls to do this."
At a party in Vancouver a couple of years ago, Ekky wore his faded POW shirt, with "POW" scrawled across the back with his wife's lipstick.
One of his wartime guards was on the party.
Today, they are good friends.

Personnel Drift To U.S. Halted, Claims Deputy

Canada is no longer losing key personnel to the United States, deputy minister, department of citizenship and immigration, Laval Fortier indicated here today.
Addressing delegates to the provincial governments' trade and industrial council meeting, he said "employer" types of newcomers from the U.S. was steadily increasing.
To deal with this influx, Mr. Fortier said his department had established branch offices in New York and Chicago.
On the general immigration picture, he estimated that during the year of 1957 Canada will have 260,000 immigrants, representing all types of occupation.
Of this anticipated number, close to 100,000 are expected from the United States.

FRIDAY MEETINGS

Victoria Lions: Empress Hotel, noon luncheon. Representative of Victoria Senior Citizens' Society will speak.
Welsh Society: 904 Government St., 8 p.m.

SPEAKING under auspices of the Liberal Religious Fellowship of Victoria (Unitarian), Swami Agnehananda (Bharati) will address an open meeting at 8:30 p.m. Friday, at 721 Courtney Street. Chairman will be Dr. D. E. Alcorn.

Marilyn To 'Speak' At Unveiling

Spectators attending the unveiling Saturday, Sept. 28, of the Marilyn Bell memorial plaque in Beacon Hill Park will hear the famed distance swimmer express her pleasure.
The Times, by special arrangement with Victoria civic officials, will broadcast a message from Miss Bell which she and coach Gus Ryder are recording this week in Toronto.
The 10 a.m. ceremony is set for the same time as Miss Bell will be taking her marriage vows in Alderwood, Ont. She is marrying Joseph Wesley DiLascio—a teacher and lifeguard.
A cairn bearing a plaque presented by the Canadian Association of Memorial Craftsmen at Toronto, is being erected near the point where Miss Bell landed after her record-breaking crossing of Juan de Fuca Strait August 23, 1956.

UNVEILING BY MAYOR

Mayor Percy Scourrah will unveil the memorial at a public ceremony. Many of the persons who assisted in the swim will be on hand.
Site of the cairn is about 100 yards east of Finlayson Point lookout.
Officials plan to record the ceremony including a lusty "good luck Marilyn" from the crowd. It will be forwarded to her following the event along with copies of Times pictures.

Wardens Want Bayliss For Chief

Appointment of James E. Bayliss as Victoria fire chief effective Jan. 1, 1958, was recommended today by city council fire warden committee.
Council was expected to confirm the appointment later this afternoon.
Mr. Bayliss has served as deputy fire chief since April, 1956. He joined the fire department June 1, 1924, took leave of absence to serve overseas with the Canadian Corps of Fire-Fighters during the Second World War.

UNANIMOUS

The recommendation was unanimous by the committee headed by Ald. Austin I. Curtis and including Mayor Percy Scourrah and Ald. Arthur Dowell. It was proposed by city manager C. C. Wyatt.

Mayor Scourrah said the appointment was supported also by the B.C. fire marshal, who gave the deputy a high recommendation.
Deputy Bayliss will replace Chief Frank Briers who will retire on superannuation after 41 years on the force.

125 Delegates Meeting Here For Power Talks

One hundred and twenty-five delegates of the North Western Public Power Association opened a two-day convention at the Empress Hotel today.
The meeting is of the accounting and finance sections only. It is the first time the group has met in Victoria.
Purpose of the meetings is to determine methods of getting money for financing power projects at reasonable cost.
Delegates are from Alaska, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon.
B.C. Power Commission is host.

More Federal Works Asked for Victoria

Compensation Limit Boost Asked By VLC

A resolution calling for raising of workmen's compensation limits by $750 a year will be submitted by Victoria Labor Council to the second annual B.C. Federation of Labor convention in Vancouver, Oct. 24 to 26.

The resolution will be presented by three delegates elected at a VLC meeting Wednesday night. Delegates are Jack MacKenzie, IWA representative; A. W. Toome, VLC secretary-treasurer, and Percy Raymond, civic workers representative.
The resolution notes "that the B.C. government claims to have legislation as good or better than the rest of Canada yet it only pays up to 75 per cent of $4,000 annually for compensation" while Saskatchewan and Ontario pay up to 75 per cent of $5,000.

Submitted by Cliff Michael, local IWA safety director, the resolution asks the convention to petition the government to raise limits to the Saskatchewan and Ontario levels.
Another resolution approved by the meeting reaffirms the convention's adoption last year of a resolution urging the government to carry out public power development of the Columbia River system.
Also approved was a resolution urging a campaign to seek an amendment to the Labor Relations Act which would require both parties to be heard by the Labor Relations Board before any injunction could be served on a union.

Rotary Club To Sponsor Handicapped

Victoria Rotary Club today voted to sponsor Goodwill Industries—an organization giving employment to handicapped workers—as their major project for the coming year.
The club will give financial support and guidance to the organization with the aim of providing extended facilities for handicapped workers.
The work will be carried out under the leadership of eight Rotarians serving as directors.

They are: George Brown, Alf Dowell, Harold Foshbrooke, Bill Gamble, George A. Gray, Eben Govan, Morris L. Greene and Walter White.
Goodwill Industries was established in Victoria less than two years ago as an autonomous enterprise designed to give sheltered employment to the physically handicapped.

EMPLOYEES SIX

At present the organization is able to employ six handicapped workers—five men and a girl—at its premises at 560 Yates Street.
"We could take dozens more if we had the accommodation," Fred Blakeney, founder and organizer of Goodwill Industries, said.
Fred himself is a victim of muscular dystrophy—a wasting disease of the muscles. He drives to his office every day in a small electric car, propels it right up to his desk and stays there all day while he transacts the business of the firm.

PUBLISHER'S NOTEBOOK

Evening With Joe Kirkwood

"THE last time I played this course," Joe Kirkwood said at Oak Bay last evening, "they had broccoli putting greens. The pro was Frank Buck, I played around here with two clubs—a driver and a stickie."
To a boy, who crowded too close to him, the veteran trick-shot golfer said: "Son, you're going to have flowers in your room but you're not going to smell them."
When Dr. George Bigelow pushed a tee shot into the woods, Joe murmured:

Education Body Names B.C. Deputy

Dr. H. L. Campbell, British Columbia's deputy minister and superintendent of education, has been elected president of the Canadian Education Association, it was announced in Fredericton, N.B., today.
Simultaneously the association announced that on the invitation of Education Minister Leslie Peterson it will hold its 1958 convention in Victoria.

Originally a teacher in rural and city schools in B.C., Mr. Campbell joined the education department in 1928.
Subsequently he served as inspector of schools, vice-principal of the provincial normal schools, director of the provincial summer school for teachers, municipal inspector of schools for Victoria, chief inspector of schools and assistant superintendent of education.
He was appointed deputy minister and superintendent of education in July, 1953.
The Canadian Education Association acts as an agency for the voluntary co-operation of educational groups and authorities throughout Canada.

Auto Plunges Off Street Into Gorge

Collision of two cars at Gorge and Rockwell sent three persons—two over 70 to hospital with minor injuries after one car plunged over a bank into the Gorge Wednesday.
The three were in a 1956 sedan which went out of control, over a boulevard and eight-foot rock bank, and landed nose-down in three feet of water with rear wheels still on the bank.
Those injured were J. R. Barnes, 1611 Bay, with a cut hand; his wife, Mrs. C. Barnes, 72, treated for leg cuts and bruises; their daughter, Edith, of the same address, who was driving and received a bruised forehead.
Her aunt, Miss L. Blackwell, 79, who was sitting beside the driver, was shaken up but not injured.
Their care had been proceeding north on Gorge when at Rockwell it was in collision with a car driven by 75-year-old H. H. Stark, 1153 Fort, who drove west out of Rockwell to proceed north on Gorge.

Labor Body Backs Winter Job Drive

Victoria Labor Council Wednesday night supported a resolution urging more federal projects for this area.
The resolution is being sent to Ottawa by the Victoria Winter Employment Committee.
Don Douglas, shipwrights delegate, told the council that a recent meeting of the committee had drawn up a resolution asking for more public works and shipbuilding projects here to ease the expected shortage of work this winter.
Mr. Douglas also revealed today that a delegation from the committee will approach Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes, VC, with the same request as soon as possible.

NOT MUCH

"There are three or four naval jobs that will be completed soon and there is nothing in the offing except a destroyer escort contract for next year," he said.
Mr. Douglas told the council that businessmen were wholeheartedly behind the committee's "Plan Now" campaign and "in my opinion Premier Bennett is keeping two or three public works projects, including a court house, in reserve in case the situation gets bad this winter."
Union response to a request from the committee that it promote newspaper advertisements for the campaign resulted in only seven orders, he said.

SUPPORT IT

"We should get behind this campaign," he told the council. Meanwhile, the committee heard suggestions at a meeting earlier this week that all levels of government be encouraged to adopt a policy of carrying out maintenance and development programs throughout the winter months.

The committee noted that although unemployment is higher this year, more people were working as a result of growing population.
The "Plan Now" campaign officially opens at the end of September to promote programs aimed at stabilizing employment on a year-round basis.

Campbell Dam 'Extras' Set At $750,000

B.C. Power Commission today put a possible $750,000 price tag on "extras" added to the Upper Campbell River dam project over the last three years.
The figure was described as "not unreasonable" by a company spokesman. It was released following a Times investigation in Campbell River of reports of BCPC inefficiency and free-spending.
The sum will be added to an earlier estimate of the cost of the project—$4,921,875.
Extra costs were blamed on a necessary work speed-up and lengthy litigation caused by opposition to Buttle Lake development.

TWO FLOODS

Campbell River residents blamed rising costs on two floods which occurred when early plug dams gave way last December, and on mishaps occurring on the job. Two prime examples given were the collapse of steel linings in a tunnel under the dam, and the loss of a 20-ton crane which toppled into the lake. It has still to be retrieved.
The acceleration program, which saw contractors Wade, Dawson and Macco placed on a cost-plus basis for three months, was claimed necessary to avoid a power shortage this fall.
Commission spokesman says the possible dimout has been averted and water storage of up to $1,000,000 value will be created by the speed-up.

MY GUINNESS!

Our Dinah Tries Stout For Stouting

By DINAH KERR
There's only one dieting day to go, friends, and I've become desperate.
Last night I sat down, contemplated my stomach, and decided it was time to add a few rations to Josephine Lowman's nine-day gaining diet. In answer to many calls from loyal supporters I turned to stout.
So, in the bosom of my family, at approximately 9 p.m., I killed a pint. A few minutes later, I fell into a sodden sleep and dreamt I was being chased by a bear.
Any weight I might have gained I worked off in that wild race down the mountain-side because I'm still only 116 pounds.
Since going on Josephine's diet last Thursday, I've gained exactly two pounds. I'm not one to point a finger of scorn, but I'm wagging a witch-like forefinger in the general direction of Josephine today. Her last words to me in the "Valuable Hints for Women Who Wish to Gain Weight" were "If you follow the above suggestions I believe that you will find the pounds climbing into their places."
I believed her. With a happy smile on my face I ate, exercised mildly and slept sufficiently. But my elbows are still capable of inflicting a serious wound, my collar bones still stand out like burles on a giant oak, and my bust-line is still a bust.
Josephine has led me up the garden path. However, my flabby friends, I'm not giving up yet. Two bottles of stout are being cooled in the refrigerator at this moment—and the Kerrs are going to have a ball tonight! I'll sober up on this Friday:
Breakfast—Fresh fruit, whole wheat cereal, cocoa and whipped cream, buttered toast.
Lunch—Baked potato, plenty of butter, green beans, yellow squash, milk and cream puff or chocolate eclairs.
Dinner—Broiled liver, lightly cooked cabbage, creamed sweet potatoes with nuts and marshmallows on top, green peas and milk before retiring.

By STUART KEATE

In a one-hour show, the old trouper hit a ball off Bill Haldane's watch; swung a lead-shaft club that wrapped around his neck; hit a drive 225 yards with a club made of rhinoceros hide; produced a Zulu club, entirely of twisted wire, which looked like a cabbage strainer.
But the most amazing show of all was the nine holes of golf he played beforehand with Bigelow, Gordon Verley and Laurie Carroll. Kirkwood birdied five of the first eight holes and finished with a 32.

His philosophy—one he has practiced in a lifetime of roaming the world's fairways—is to relax and enjoy the game.
"Don't grip the club like a bank-roll," he advised Victorians. "Play it easy and stop to smell the flowers."

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Donald S. Bushell, Victoria, secretary of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council, will attend an interprovincial conference of the B.C. and Alberta councils in Calgary, Sept. 28.
The same day, the VIBTC will hold its regular meeting in Nanaimo.

Ald. Austin I. Curtis will be acting mayor of Victoria next week in the absence of Mayor Percy Scourrah and other council members who will attend the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Nelson.
The appointment was recommended today by council finance meeting. Ald. Curtis was originally appointed a UBCM delegate and Ald. G. I. Edgewood was to have taken the mayor's place. But when Ald. Curtis was required to remain here by pressure of business, the two changed places.

Second "piggy bank" larceny since the weekend was reported to city police late Wednesday by Mrs. D. Bell, 1003 Carberry Gardens.
She said she went out of her apartment at 4 p.m., leaving the door unlocked, and when she returned the bank, containing $14, was gone.
On Saturday a thief entered a Calsonic 54 x 61 home while occupants were away and smashed a piggy bank containing more than $100.

Two or three delegates to the world seminar of the International Federation of Free Trade Unions, ending in Banff this week, will visit Victoria Monday as guests of local unions, Victoria Labor Council was told Wednesday night.

Members of the American Society of Travel Agents in convention here Wednesday resolved to work for establishment of courses in transportation at University of British Columbia and Washington State University.

A sub-committee was formed to arrange for research grants to help cover costs of the courses. C. E. "Bud" Blaney of Victoria was appointed a committee member.

A Victoria 17-year-old was placed on six months probation in Saanich juvenile court Wednesday for the part he took with two others in throwing a 15-year-old girl into the Gorge two weeks ago.
The other two boys earlier were given the same sentence.

Cornelius F. Hughes, 2214 Belmont, pleaded guilty to six charges of over-parking downtown and was fined a total $17.50 in city police court today.
Each of the first five charges drew penalties of $2.50 each and the last charge $5 because of "repetition."

Both sides of a wage dispute between 150 members of Federal 128, Canadian Chemical and Explosives Workers, and management of the Canadian Industries Limited explosives plant on James Island were presented to a conciliation board Thursday. The hearing was continuing today.

A new business block built for Canada Trust and Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation, corner of Broad and View, will be open for public inspection Monday Sept. 30. The modern building was constructed by Loney Brothers and Hamilton. Architects were Birley and Simpson.

Past president of Besant Lodge, Mrs. Edith Chesman will address a public meeting sponsored by the Victoria-Theosophical Society at 904 Government Street Sunday at 8 p.m. Her subject will be "The Power of the Spoken Word."

Next international reunion of Sourdoughs may be held in Victoria.

The suggestion was made by Sourdough and West Vancouver pioneer Walter Hamilton at a recent fall meeting of the Vancouver Yukoners' Association in Seattle.

It will be explored by the international group.

John M. Moore, 3247 Aldridge, was fined $20 in city police court today for dumping rubbish outside the gate of the city garbage wharf.

Police said he left a stack of newspapers and a cardboard carton at the gate, near which a sign prohibited dumping. More said he left the material intending to return the next morning to place it in an incinerator.

Got Zipper Trouble? Then Read About This New Hook

By PENNY SAVER

Captain Hook of "Peter Pan" certainly had an idea with that hook arm, but ladies, you, too, can be like old Hook.

Don't be alarmed. Just read on, because today I found an amazing zipper stick with a hook attached on the end for zipping up back zippers. For $2.50 you can fasten your own dress instead of calling the whole family to perform this almost impossible operation.

"The mouse gets the cheese," but the mouse would have to be very clever to get the curd out of the cheese dish that I found today. It is a tempting looking piece of pottery in a cheese shape with a tiny mouse sitting on top who looks cute enough to devour. You can buy it for $5.95.

Ever seen a long armed shoe horn? Well, I did. Yes, this bamboo shoe horn is made especially for stoutish people or those lazy creatures who just can't be bothered to bend over to slip their boots on! It could make an amusing gift. Costs $6.

Another very interesting little item on sale today for $1 was a combination clothes brush and shoe horn. The horn slips under the handle of the brush, making it just perfect for a traveler who is space saving.

Tinkle, tinkle — dinner time. How would you like a little china bell for calling the tardy to dinner? It could also be used as a sick room aid. The bell has a musical tinkle and couldn't be prettier as a handy piece for any home at $1.

Seems unusual to get excited about an ordinary thing like a shaver, doesn't it? But men, this is IT! A German-made rolling action shaver that requires no electrical current but is small, compact and portable. You just roll it on your face and that 5 o'clock shadow disappears . . . and for $9.95!

Also along the china lines, I found a "Jolly Friar" liqueur set. The grinning, merry friar is a perfect darling with his liqueur cups. This would make an elegant present for $5.95.

With centennial year coming up rapidly, wouldn't it be unique to collect totem poles to send to your friends and relations in 1958 in honor of the celebration? The collection I saw ranges in price from $1.25.

On Etiquette

Avoid Abbreviations:

When addressing an envelope, is it more correct to write in full the "and, street and state," or is it better to abbreviate? I have always thought it correct to say, "I live at Chicago," yet most everyone will say "in Chicago." Which is correct, "I" was talking with Mary," or "talking to Mary?"

Louise Davis Answers: It is better to spell out the "and, street and Illinois," especially for personal letters, announcements, and acknowledgments. Abbreviations are a lazy way of writing addresses, but, for business purposes, they are acceptable.

If a business envelope is handwritten, the writing should be legible enough to facilitate and expedite matters for postoffice, especially if abbreviations are used. Good grammar and proper use of words signify good manners and breeding.

"I live in Chicago" is correct. The idea is the same as "I live in the United States," rather than "at the United States." You are not living at a city, state, province or country, but in. However, you are living at such and such an address.

"I was talking with Mary" is correct, because you and Mary are both talking with each other. "I was talking to Mary" is an accepted form, therefore, is considered correct. But, in the strict analysis, the "to" signifies that you are talking to Mary, but that Mary isn't necessarily talking to you.

Also along the china lines, I found a "Jolly Friar" liqueur set. The grinning, merry friar is a perfect darling with his liqueur cups. This would make an elegant present for $5.95.

Beautifully garnished with snipped parsley, sieved egg yolks and egg white slivers, this delicious soup is seasoned with sherry

Mushroom Soup Au Sherry

This soup is truly superb!

It vividly illustrates what marvelous flavor sherry or cooking sherry can add to food. This soup is lovely to see — topped with snipped green parsley, sieved egg yolks and egg white slivers.

Ingredients: 1 cup water, ½ cup uncooked white rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, ½ cup finely chopped onions, 1 3-oz. can broiled chopped mushrooms, 1 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup, 2 cups beef broth or stock (use bouillon cubes, if desired), 1 hard-cooked egg, ¼ cup sherry or cooking sherry, if desired, finely snipped parsley.

Method: Put the water, rice and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on until ready to use, at least 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, melt the butter or margarine in a 2-quart saucepan. Add the onions and mushrooms. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until the onions are tender and yellow, egg yolk, egg white and parsley. This recipe makes about 6 cups of soup.

Stir in the mushroom soup. Slowly stir in the beef broth and the cooked rice. Heat over a low heat until very hot. Stir occasionally.

Press the egg yolk through a sieve. Thinly slice the whites. Just before serving, stir in the sherry. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Thin with additional beef broth or sherry, if desired. Serve very hot, topping each serving with some

White Floral Setting For Sidney Nuptials

White gladioli banked the altar of St. Elizabeth's Church, Sidney, for the marriage of Eileen Shirley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George V. Cooke, of Sidney, and Donald Allen Shaw, son of Mr. C. J. Shaw, Victoria, and Mrs. M. A. Shaw, Whaletown, B.C.

Father LeClerc heard the couple's vows and during the signing of the register E. Eykerman sang a solo.

A scalloped overskirt of flowered French lace posed over white whisper taffeta, formed a bouffant gown for the bride, given in marriage by her father. A lattice cap of white velvet held her veil of French illusion and she carried a mother-of-pearl prayer book mounted by a mauve orchid. Her only jewelry was a strand of cultured pearls, gift of the groom.

Attendants, Mrs. David G.

Murdoch, matron of honor, and Miss Rea Drager, bridesmaid, wore gowns of lace over net and taffeta. Mrs. Murdoch's in yellow and Miss Drager's in champagne tone. Both wore white illusion chapel veils held by bandeaux of white straw lace and carried colonial nosegays of mauve and yellow chrysanthemums.

Charles J. Velay was best man and K. Anderson and H. Taylor were ushers.

Reception was held in Sidney Hotel, where 100 guests were received by the newlyweds. Father LeClerc proposed the toast to the bride.

For travelling on honeymoon in California, the bride donned a full-skirted pure silk dress in Far East pattern, topped with pale yellow coat, white velvet model hat, white accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will make their home at 283 Michigan Street.

AS NEEDLE, THREAD SWINGS SEX TOLD BY WOMAN EXPERT

Warren Zurbrigg of Gorrie, 40 miles northwest of here, claims she can tell the sex of animals, birds and flowers—by using a needle and thread.

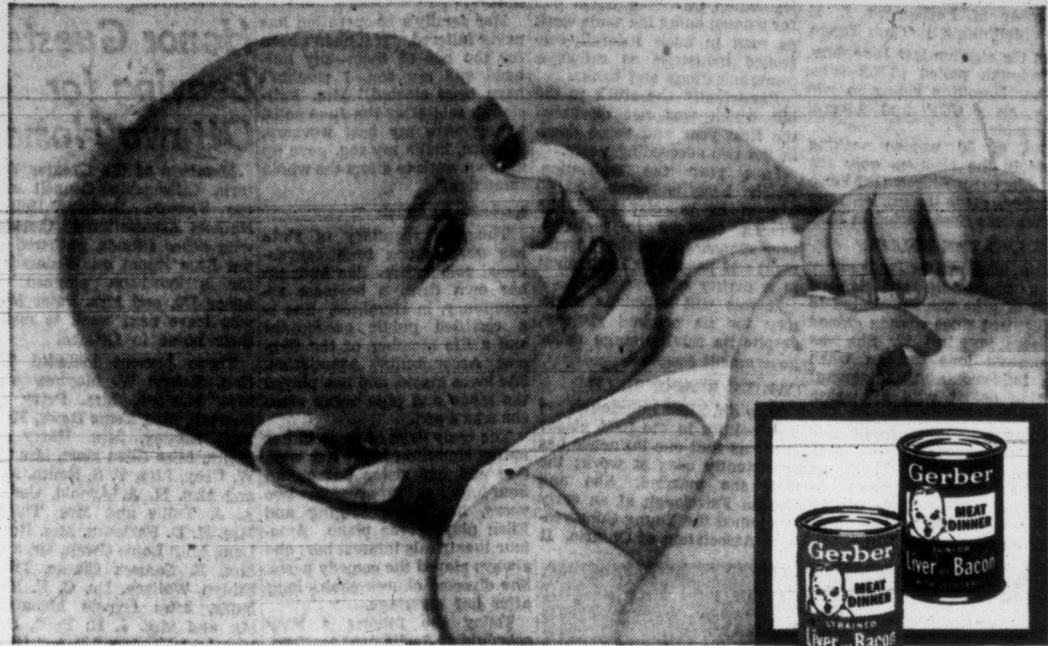

She says all you have to do is suspend a piece of needle and thread. If a female specimen is placed underneath, the thread from the needle will rotate counter-clockwise. A male will make it swing back and forth, like a pendulum.

She has tried it out on farm animals, poultry and flowers, and says it works every time.

Mrs. Zurbrigg remembered hearing about method after reading a newspaper story a few years ago about an ornithologist who was puzzled about how to determine the sex of a whooping crane.

She wrote, telling him of the method, then began conducting her own experiments.

MAIN EMPRESS DINING ROOM CLOSING OCT. 15

The Empress Room, main dining room of the Empress Hotel, will be closed for the winter season effective Oct. 15, hotel manager Cyril Chapman said today.

Thanksgiving Day dinner will be the last meal served in the dining room, except for larger conventions and the Christmas period.

Closure of the room is regretted, but an operating loss mounting into thousands of dollars brought about the decision, Mr. Chapman said.

He said closure would affect a few employees, but some of these would be absorbed in the hotel's coffee shop where service will be expanded to provide catering comparable to the dining room.

LONDON (AP)—Britain and newly independent Malaya Wednesday announced a defence agreement allowing British military forces to be based in the Southeast Asia nation. Malaya retains the right to veto any British military action to be launched from the bases.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

—by Byrne Hope Sanders

MONTREAL, Sept. 19th—Such a comfort! You'll find a host of new flavor ideas for your stews, meat pies, sauces and casseroles when you use the full-flavored LIPTON TOMATO VEGETABLE SOUP. It contains all the favorite garden-fresh vegetables, flavored and spiced to a delicate perfection. For instance:

Spaghetti with Tomato Sauce: Make a pot of Lipton Tomato Vegetable Soup using only half the water. Add it to cooked spaghetti; sprinkle cheese on top; bake in a moderate oven.

Beef Vegetable Lasagna: Make your meat hot as usual, but add a package of Lipton Tomato Vegetable Soup just as it comes from the package—for a new flavor hit.

TV Chili Con Carne: Add a package of Lipton Tomato Vegetable Soup to your favorite recipe—and see what a transformation it makes!

ANY BIRTHDAYS COMING UP? No happier way of saying "Happy Birthday", to my mind, than giving a beautiful budgie! They're a delight to own and watch—and they grow more affectionate all the time. It's fun to teach them their tricks—and watch them practice! And it's so easy to keep them healthy with BROCK'S BUDGIE SEED—one of Brock's 5 Basic Budgie Products. A budgie would bring endless pleasure into your home. We've proved it! So can you!

STRETCHING YOUR BUDGET? Make ends meet always a problem. Just staying within your allowance calls for an eagle eye on household and general expenses. As for getting together a few extra dimes new bonnet. Well, that really calls for self-discipline. But I play it smart... I pay myself on payday before anyone else—adding it set sum to my "special purpose" account at the BANK OF MONTREAL. It's surprising how quickly small sums mount up when deposited regularly. Try it... open your B of M Savings Account today. It won't be long before that "something special" you can't afford becomes yours.

"WHEN DO WE EAT?" Do you, too, have that eager cry in your home—from the family coming in from school and work or play? Isn't it a joy to have some crisp cookies ready—or perhaps a quick sandwich so the children won't starve! Keep BLUE BONNET MARGARINE always in the 'fridge, ready for such moments. Its sunny-sweet goodness makes everything taste better. You see, Blue Bonnet has never compromised with quality. Marine or animal oils are not used—and never have been used—in its manufacture. It is now and always has been an all-vegetable margarine. So do right by your family. For flavor, nutrition and energy—always use famous all-vegetable Blue Bonnet Margarine.

AS THE YEARS PASS... it becomes more important than ever to guard regularity with the right foods. Sedentary workers also know the need for guarding regularity. That's one reason RED RIVER CEREAL is so popular—it's been known for years as Nature's mild regulator. It tastes so good, too. There's something about Red River's blending of three wholesome grains that gives it a delicious flavour all of its own. Mothers know too, how nourishing a cereal Red River is—for hard-playing youngsters and hard-working adults. So you see, Red River Cereal makes the best kind of breakfast for us all.

WATERPROOF your baby's skin! That's what this marvelous product Barriere B.D.H. does. It's a protective cream—creams high in silicones to protect the skin against moisture and irritants. Your lucky baby need never be troubled with Diaper Rash again! Amazing—but true. For Barriere B.D.H. is a laboratory product, known and recommended by doctors for years. Invaluable in preventing diaper rash, chapped skin, detergent rash. Use it on your own hands before doing any work with substances which may irritate or soil your skin. ## Wiring Work Curtails Traffic On 2 Streets

Herald and Cormorant Streets between Douglas and Government will be limited to single lane traffic starting today as the second phase of the B.C. Electric underground wiring project gets underway.

Farmer Construction Ltd. will begin trenching and duct installation. The city will follow the contractor with repaving crews in order to keep the disorder of traffic at a minimum.

Start on the four-year program which will see wiring in a 30-block downtown area transferred underground was made last fall and winter. Work will be halted for the 1958 tourist season.

This winter's program will be carried out in five sections. About 75 men will be employed as well as heavy trucks and equipment. Value of the winter job is estimated at $900,000.

STAMP PROBLEM LICKED BY PRACTICAL CUSTOMER

EDMONTON (CP)—An envelope with a five-cent piece attached to it with transparent tape has gone through the cancelling machines at the Edmonton post office and the letter has been delivered.

The Edmonton Journal Wednesday published a photograph of the envelope, delivered Tuesday.

The unidentified woman who mailed the letter told the Journal, "I just didn't have a stamp."

She added that she expected the post office would keep the nickel and put a stamp on the letter.

Two-Prong Drive for University

By JOHN MIKA

Pressure for a university in Victoria will be brought to bear on the provincial government from two directions.

Labor and business are combining to put a squeeze play on the cabinet.

Victoria Labor Council Wednesday night unanimously approved a resolution calling for a university in Victoria "with facilities comparable to those of the University of British Columbia."

University sub-committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has set its sights on the more modest goal of a full students to warrant a uni-liberal arts college in Victoria as a branch of UBC.

The VLC resolution will be submitted to the B.C. Federation of Labor annual convention in Vancouver next month to get added weight.

The resolution, submitted by Jack MacKenzie, president of Local 1-118, International Woodworkers of America, said:

"It is common knowledge that UBC is overcrowded and inadequate to meet the needs of a growing student population."

and the city of Victoria has sufficient property available and the sufficient number of graduating students to warrant a university."

It asks the convention to petition the government to "immediately plan" a university for Victoria.

Another resolution calls for free education from public school to university for "students capable of absorbing the education."

The resolution said "thousands of workers' children are being denied the opportunity for higher education" because of high costs.

It said "many millions of dollars of public funds are spent to subsidize free enterprise to exploit our natural resources from which (it) reaps the profits" but emphasized that the younger generation was the nation's greatest single asset.

The C of C sub-committee Friday will ask its directors to approve a resolution that the provincial government acquire sufficient land for a university campus here.

"There are grave fears that this may be a last opportunity to reserve land for this purpose," said Capt. G. R. Newell, chairman of the sub-committee.

"About 57 acres is owned (by Victoria College) at present. A minimum should be more than 150 acres."

—FINLAYSON

VANCOUVER (CP) — Progressive Conservative leader Dean Finlayson said Wednesday night he expects Conservatives will win 15 B.C. seats at the next federal election.

They now hold seven seats. But the provincial leader sounded a warning that the general election, when it comes—"and we should prepare for one next spring"—won't be a shoo-in.

MAYOR THREATENS TO RESIGN

Housewives Link Arm-In-Arm To Thwart Tree-Cutting Crew

WINNIPEG (CP) — A group of housewives, backed by Mayor Stephen Juba, today thwarted an attempt by the city engineer's department to cut down a controversial 95-year-old elm tree in the middle of Wolseley Avenue in a west-central residential district.

The women linked arms and surrounded the tree when workmen approached with saws. Deputy city engineer A. J. traffic.

Taunton ordered the workmen to start cutting anyway.

As the men began snipping off the tree's branches, Mayor Juba arrived and ordered them to stop. He said he would take the matter back to city council and would resign from office if his action was not supported.

The workmen withdrew. Periodic efforts have been made by city committees to have the tree removed on the grounds that it interferes with traffic.

Protests from residents of the area have previously prevented any action.

This week, the city public works committee ruled that the huge, three-trunk tree must go.

Pension-Type Insurance Popular, Says Executive

Canadians today are more concerned over security in old age than ever before.

That is the considered opinion of officials of the Dominion of Canada General Insurance Company now visiting Victoria.

"There is a definite trend towards the savings or pensions type of insurance rather than mere protective insurance," said Henry S. Gooderham, Toronto, president of the company which his grandfather, George Gooderham, founded in 1887.

"The provision of income tax deferred pension plan payments has boosted insurance sales considerably during the past year."

POPULAR PACKAGE

Lisle L. Rooke, general manager of the company, stated that "package" insurance is growing in popularity every year. That is more people are combining property, fire, car, theft and loss under one comprehensive policy.

"This enables the insurance agent to make a thorough survey of his customer's needs and then draw up a policy that will cover all requirements," he said.

Mr. Gooderham and Mr. Rooke are now touring western Canada in company with Douglas G. Ross, vice-president of Dominion Insurance, and Brigadier Wilfrid Mavor and Wye-burn Eastmure, directors. With them also is John H. Glavin, B.C. branch manager from Vancouver.

The company has substantial investments in B.C. provincial, municipal and utility bonds. At a meeting in Vancouver last week, the directors decided to invest in the new B.C. Power Commission bonds.

"There are so many investment opportunities out here it is a pity there is not more Canadian capital available," Mr. Gooderham said. "We would certainly like to extend our investments in British Columbia."

He added that the company is now considering placing mortgage money for individual home-building in B.C. but no definite decision has yet been reached.

He said Canadian Prime Minister Sir John A. Macdonald was the first president of the company which his grandfather founded.

There has been a Gooderham on the board of directors ever since and the latest is Peter S. Gooderham, son of the president.

During their three-day stay in Victoria the directors will be meeting agents of the company on Vancouver Island.

THEY'RE PULLING DOWN AN AGE

Girls, Gambling, Giggle Water Stirred Old Rio

By PHIL LEE

They are pulling down the Rio Theatre on Government Street.

They are pulling down an age to make room for a parking lot.

And no one cares.

Or maybe Blackjack MacDonald goes.

Or Considine or Sullivan.

Or the girls who'd serve you drinks and maybe sit on your lap for a price.

Or how about all the jolly tars stationed at the Royal Navy base at Esquimalt? They would pour out of the Rio just a little the worse for wear to catch the last trolley which left downtown Victoria at 11:20 sharp. It was either the 11:20 or the "rattle."

The trolleys weren't closed in then. They'd climb inside holus bolus and those who couldn't get in clung to the sides or climbed up on top.

And just when the trolley was about to lurch off into the night, looking like a piece of bread covered thick with flies, voices would screech, "Hold her for us mates!" And some of those clinging to the tram would jump off and lie on the tracks so it couldn't get under way until the last of their pals were aboard.

Wonder how many are living now? For it was a long time ago.

It was May 22, 1899, when the Rio opened for business. But it wasn't the Rio then. It was known as the Savoy. And it wasn't the Victoria we know today.

The city proper numbered only about 20,000 then. The mayor was Charles E. Redfern and B.C.'s premier was Hon. C. A. Semlin. To set the era further, Sir Wilfrid Laurier was prime minister of Canada and Queen Victoria sat on the throne of England.

'Blackjack' Renowned Trader

But chances are that those bustling into the Savoy before and after the turn of the century weren't much concerned with such matters. For the Savoy was Victoria's only burlesque house and Blackjack MacDonald, the proprietor.

There are some oldtimers still about who remember the Rio when it was the Savoy, and the day when a gent could belly up to a bar and pour his own drinks from a bottle at 15c a shot or two for 25c.

According to some of these everyone, in Victoria got to the Savoy sooner or later. It was not unusual to find members of Victoria's finest families there having their little fling. And under its boisterousness the Savoy had a certain tone and Blackjack ran an honest house.

Blackjack, according to tales handed down, was a quiet-spoken man about six feet in height with a 180 or 190-pound frame. Under his eagle eye and with a couple or husky bouncers looking on, customers could try their luck at every known type of dice game, cards, and, of course, roulette.

One story those who remember like to tell is about the night an officer of the Royal Navy roared loudly and very Britishly at an obscene joke while enjoying the privacy of one of these boxes.

At the Savoy a man could demand and get his privacy. Along each side of the theatre, situated above the ground-floor seats, was a line of small boxes. Each of these was curtained off so a man could speak of love without being overheard or seen. Yet, if he had a mind to, he could still watch the show going on below.

ask Andy

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then Ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive suitable prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answers each day receives a 20-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Jim Corbett, aged 10, of Peterborough, Ont., for his question:

How Are Mirrors Made?

Mirror making was once the chloride is applied to one side of glass. There were of the glass and carefully strict laws to prevent the Venetians from taking the secret to foreign lands. Sup-tin chloride. Particles of silver pose Andy had told the secret from the solution settle down of the mirror makers of Venice to form a level coating. The 400 years ago. ## Housing of Arts Problem in U.K.

LONDON (CP)—The British Drama League Journal says Britain has lost 100 theatres in two years.

Prime Minister Macmillan's statement that the British people "never had it so good" would hardly raise a cheer in the British theatre, "striving to keep afloat amid the gales of inflation," say The Journal.

"A national plan considering especially the housing problem of the arts is desperately needed. We cannot rely on last-minute appeals and American millionaires."

PAID TV TO GO ON TRIAL BASIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The federal communications commission Wednesday announced a tentative decision to go ahead with trial demonstrations of a subscription television service, possibly some time next year.

The commission said it plans to accept applications from television stations to inaugurate such service for a trial three-year period.

This would leave it to the stations to decide what type of subscription service they desired to offer.

3 Britons Fly With Ease Minus Wings or Trapeze

LONDON (AP)—Britons with nothing more to worry about, are finding whether man has the ability to float through the air unaided.

An eminent author says he once used to float through the air without wings—or anything else.

Richard Church, author of 19 books of poetry, 25 volumes of prose and winner of two literary awards, says he discovered his ability when he was 10 years old, 54 years ago.

"I took a deep breath, felt the cold air flood through my lungs and the hollows of my bones as though they were bird bones, spread my arms, and felt myself rise from the floor," he asserts.

At the time he was recuperating from an illness at an institution at the seaside resort of Broadstairs. Intrigued with his new-found floating power, he experimented outside his room.

FLOATED DOWNSTAIRS

"I flew, or floated, down the staircase to the big dining room," he added.

Church's strange disclosures were made public by the Sunday Times in extracts from his autobiography.

At least two other persons say they, too, once floated.

A man named Harold Cook wrote the Sunday Times from Bournemouth saying:

"In my fairly long life I have met only three or four people besides myself who have experienced this fascinating and enchanting ability to float."

"From early boyhood and up to the age of about 55 I would

15 Children Killed By Old War Shells

JERUSALEM, Israel (UP)—Grief-stricken villagers today surrendered to police dozens of nine-year-old live shells of the type that exploded accidentally and killed 15 children Tuesday. Residents of Sandale, a nearby village, where the children lived, started the drive Wednesday and police stockpiled them in a remote area for dismantling by demolition experts today. They said they expected residents of many other villages in the area, close to the Jordanian border, to turn in their lethal souvenirs of the 1948 Palestine war.

French Machine-Gun Tunisian Army Post

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—The government said today a French fighter plane machine-gunned a Tunisian army post about a half-mile from the Tunisian-Algerian frontier. The spot is known as Sakiet-Sidi-Youssef. It said Tunisian troops in the post shot back at the plane. Damage to the post was said to be slight.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

We thank thee, O God, for so much honesty in man when it is often profitable to cheat, for so much fairness among men when the rewards of self-assertion are often clearly seen, and for so much patience displayed even while the hustler gets what he goes after. Keep reminding us of thyself through these down-to-earth people who live up to heavenly standards; in Jesus' name. Amen.

Woman Prime Minister? Why Not?—Fairclough

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Canada may one day have a woman prime minister, in the opinion of Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, secretary of state in the new Conservative government and the first woman to hold a cabinet post in Ottawa.

"I see no reason why a woman of exceptional gifts should not be prime minister," said slim, brown-eyed Mrs. Fairclough, interviewed during a brief visit to Victoria today. "Of course," she added quickly, "it is not likely to happen for a long time to come. But I can foresee a time when a woman parliamentarian of outstanding ability and character may qualify for government leadership."

In support of her argument, Mrs. Fairclough said public prejudice against women in high office has diminished considerably in recent years, and women generally are becoming increasingly interested in public affairs.

ONE DRAWBACK
"There is, however, the drawback that most women like to live close to home. For that reason most of them are attracted to public work at the municipal level."

Although she successfully introduced legislation to provide equal pay for women in industry, Mrs. Fairclough stated emphatically that she is not a feminist.

"I do not think women should be in parliament just because they are women. They must have a special interest in public affairs and the ability to express themselves clearly and forcefully."

"For that reason I do not advocate any special training for women parliamentarians. They should graduate naturally into it."

public life through their interest in public affairs."

First elected to parliament in 1950, Mrs. Fairclough disclosed that she actually lost money during her first year in Ottawa. This was due, she said, to the cost of travelling between Ottawa and her home in Hamilton and living expenses in the capital.

Did she favor raising sessional indemnities to federal members?

"No, I don't think that is advisable," she replied. "If we raise remuneration too high we shall attract people who could not earn that much anywhere else. And a person interested in making money is not an ideal parliamentarian."

NEW OFFICE

In her new office as secretary of state, Mrs. Fairclough administers the Queen's Printer and in that capacity she visited the Queen's printing establishment at HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt, this morning.

Later she was to meet Premier Bennett at the legislative buildings and tonight she will be honored at a dinner arranged by A. E. deB. McPhillips, Conservative member for Victoria.

Higher Car Seats To Show Off Queen

LONDON (UP)—The London Daily Mirror said today seats are being raised four inches in the cars to be used by Queen Elizabeth II when she visits the United States this fall.

The state department wants Americans to get a good view of her during the tour, the newspaper said. But it said the state department also was "worried about the Queen's legs" and will raise the floors too.

The Mirror said someone pointed out that the Queen's legs would be left dangling if the seats were raised without raising the floor.

State department officials were too polite to ask for measurements from the palace, the newspaper said, and measurements were finally figured out by use of slide rules and working from full length pictures of the Queen.

Stowaways to Present Another Hanna Case?

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two stowaways from Vancouver discovered aboard ship in Bell Ingham, Wash., have told American authorities an incredible tale of how they journeyed illegally half-way round the world without speaking a word of English.

If their story is true, Vancouver immigration officials may soon be faced with another problem involving men without a country.

The men, who gave their names as Arto D. Rabard and Josef Bouop, are confined aboard the Norwegian freighter Elisabeth Bakke, and will return to Vancouver with the ship in a few days.

Regional U.S. immigration director John Boyd of Seattle said the pair have no papers of any kind. One of them speaks fluent German, and both spoke freely through an interpreter.

They said they fled from Hungary into Austria, then slipped across the border into France and stowed away aboard a ship in Marseilles.

The ship called at Halifax where they disembarked illegally in March. How they made their way across Canada without papers and no knowledge of the language is a mystery, but they arrived in Vancouver and boarded the Elisabeth Bakke at CPR pier.

They were discovered Tuesday as the ship neared Bellingham.

Mr. Boyd said his department has ordered the pair returned to Canada aboard the ship, and considers the incident closed.

Asian Flu Hits 65,000 in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Here's the latest communique on Asian flu:

1. The number of cases in the United States is climbing. The U.S. public health service, which put the total at 50,000 last week, now estimates "at least 65,000" cases. Officials said, however, that part of the apparent increase may represent improved reporting procedures.

2. There is no sign yet that the disease has begun to spread with the prairie-fire speed of a true national epidemic. Outbreaks have been reported in 37 states, but all have remained localized. The biggest local epidemic, in Louisiana, apparently is leveling off.

3. Vaccine production is running somewhat behind schedule. Drug manufacturers originally hoped to turn out 8,000,000 shots by Sept. 15. Only 5,430,442 shots actually were released for military and civilian use by Sept. 12. A new batch, which will go out this week, will bring the total to about 7,000,000.

4. Asian flu continues to be a comparatively mild disease for most victims. Twelve deaths have been reported among 65,000 cases—a death rate of two 100ths of 1 per cent. There is no evidence that the disease is growing in virulence like the great flu epidemic of 1918 which caused an estimated 850,000 deaths in the United States.

At public health service headquarters, where daily reports are plotted on huge charts, epidemic experts are watching closely for the first sign that isolated outbreaks of flu have begun to merge into a great wave of contagion.

Weak Esther Still Kills 4

NEW ORLEANS (UP)—Tropical storm Esther was only a shallow low pressure area in Mississippi today, but four were dead in her wake and flooding was threatened in her path.

It was water, rather than wind, that figured in the four deaths and put Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee and Louisiana on the alert for possible floods.

Union Pay Scale For Power Board Ash River Crews

Union pay scale and working conditions in the Port Alberni area will be met by B.C. Power Commission for its own employees engaged on the $12,000,000 Ash River power project.

James Moffat, president of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council, told Victoria Labor Council Wednesday night that an agreement had been reached in pre-job meetings with the commission by officers of the Island, Vancouver and New Westminster building trades councils.

Libel Trial Jurors Still Deliberating

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jurors in the Confidential magazine libel trial began their third day of deliberation today to determine if the six defendants are guilty of conspiring to publish obscenity and to commit criminal libel.

Jewelry Stolen

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thieves looted $3,200 worth of diamond rings early today from a downtown jewelry store.

A large rock was thrown through a plate-glass window in the Granville Street store of the Hutchinson Jewelry Co. The store lost $2,500 worth of diamond rings in a similar raid only three weeks ago.

Red Regime Worried

SAN MARINO (AP)—Faced with possible defeat in a parliamentary vote, the Communist government of this tiny republic dissolved the grand council today and called for new elections.

The election date has not been set but it is assumed it will be held this year.

Duplessis Men Sweep By-Election

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Premier Maurice Duplessis' powerful National Union government swept all four seats in Wednesday's provincial by-elections to increase its standing in the 92-member legislature to 73.

The Liberal party lost the riding of Compton to cut its standing to 16. Three seats are held by Independents.

More than 75 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls. Voting was reported quiet.

The closest contest was in Vaudreuil-Soulanges where Liberal Paul Gerin-Lajoie had been given a good chance of beating

Loyola Schmidt, National Union candidate. Schmidt drew 7,580 votes to 7,329 for Gerin-Lajoie, while Antoine Giguere of the CCF party trailed with only 29.

Claude Gosselin carried the Compton riding, polling 6,631 votes to 3,127 for his Liberal opponent, Paul Paquin.

Joseph-Marie Laberge recorded the largest margin of victory, outdrawing Liberal Joseph Bourdon 6,871 to 1,944 in Chateaugay.

Joseph Fortin in Megantic also held a wide edge over his Liberal opponent, Pierre Maheux, drawing him 13,781 votes to 7,476.

BATTLE OF BRITAIN VICTIM

POW Came Back, He Liked Canada

By TONY DICKASON

As a German prisoner of war in Canada "for six years, two months and 23 days—I didn't count the hours," Eckehart J. Priebe, now 41, liked the country so much he came back.

The former squadron leader of the feared Messerschmitts, now Canadian representative of Lufthansa German Airlines, returned in 1952.

It all started when the native Berliner was knocked out of the skies over Kent, England, at 10.23 a.m., August 31, 1940. He bailed out of his disintegrating fighter and bailed into POW camps.

Mr. Priebe—"most people pronounce it Pree-bee"—was here attending the convention of American Society of Travel Agents at the Empress Hotel, and was due to return to his Toronto home office today.

"They got me in the Battle of Britain," said the blue-eyed gentleman. We had an anniversary recently, did we not?"

Four Kills

Mr. Priebe has four Allied aircraft to his credit.

"I was the first German immigrant to Canada to get a private pilot's licence. I love flying. I hope my company gives me a private craft I can use flitting around Canada."

His wife, Helga, and boy, nine-year-old Bob, "ordinarily he'd be called Klaus," were in Berlin last year and the boy, saw the German president during a parade.

As Mr. Priebe recalls: "A policeman asked him 'how do you like our president?' And Bob said 'He's nice, but not as nice as our Queen.'"

Lufthansa is one of the oldest of German airlines. It was active before the Second World War, was knocked out during the war, and started again in 1955.

Family Spirit

Mr. Priebe said: "We were helped by our competitors to get back on our feet. Even now we have 19 Trans-World Airlines pilots on loan to us. Airlines have a kind of family spirit, so we have this unique feature."

Any difficulty getting into Canada, being a fighter pilot on the other side?

"None," said Mr. Priebe. "Canadian immigration said if you've spent six years in the country and still like it, you are welcome."

He added: "They gave me such a wonderful tour I came back."

He was incarcerated in Ontario, Quebec and British Columbia.

Mr. Priebe was attached to the German air ministry before fighting over England's skies. In this capacity he frequently met the ill-fated Goering.

Film-Star Type

"Goering was a helluva nice guy. He was like a film star, with medals and white coat, and he was always smoking Virginia cigars."

Mr. Priebe, who likes to be called "Eckky," is proud of his father.

"He's been a Lutheran minister in Berlin 50 years, and is now 86. He's Berlin's oldest bicycle rider and does 2,000 miles a year."

Informal

He's pleased with the lack of formality in this country. "In Germany, if you want to contact an official by telephone, you practically have to overpower three or four girls to do this."

At a party in Vancouver a couple of years ago, Eckky wore his faded POW shirt, with "POW" scrawled across the back with his wife's lipstick.

One of his wartime guards was on the party. Today, they are good friends.

Personnel Drift To U.S. Halted, Claims Deputy

Canada is no longer losing key personnel to the United States, deputy minister, department of citizenship and immigration, Laval Fortier indicated here today.

Addressing delegates to the provincial governments' trade and industrial council meeting, he said "employer" types of newcomers from the U.S. were steadily increasing.

To deal with this influx, Mr. Fortier said his department had established branch offices in New York and Chicago.

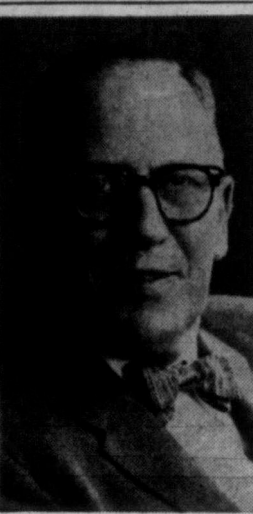

On the general immigration picture, he estimated that during the year of 1957 Canada will have 260,000 immigrants, representing all types of occupation.

Of this anticipated number, close to 100,000 are expected from the United States.

Compensation Limit Boost Asked By VLC

A resolution calling for raising of workmen's compensation limits by $750 a year will be submitted by Victoria Labor Council to the second annual B.C. Federation of Labor convention in Vancouver, Oct. 24 to 26.

The resolution will be presented by three delegates elected at a VLC meeting Wednesday night. Delegates are Jack MacKenzie, IWA representative; A. W. Toone, VLC secretary-treasurer, and Percy Rayment, civic workers representative.

The resolution notes "that the B.C. government claims to have legislation as good or better than the rest of Canada yet it only pays up to 75 per cent of $4,000 annually for compensation" while Saskatchewan and Ontario pay up to 75 per cent of $5,000.

Submitted by Cliff Michael, local IWA safety director, the resolution asks the convention to petition the government to raise limits to the Saskatchewan and Ontario levels.

Another resolution approved by the meeting reaffirms the convention's adoption last year of a resolution urging the government carry out public power development of the Columbia River system.

Also approved was a resolution urging a campaign to seek an amendment to the Labor Relations Act which would require both parties to be heard by the Labor Relations Board before any injunction could be served on a union.

Impaired Driver Gets 21 Days On Second Offence

Frank P. Mahoney, 851 Viewfield, was sentenced in city police court today to 21 days in jail without option of fine for a second conviction for impaired driving.

In addition, his driver's licence was suspended for a minimum of one year and he was fined $25 or an additional five days for driving while under suspension.

He pleaded not guilty to both charges and told the court his insurance firm, after consulting the Motor Vehicles Branch, assured him it was in order for him to drive prior to an accident Sept. 14.

Police arrested Mahoney after he was involved in a collision with another car at Oak Bay Junction.

They said he smelled strongly of alcohol, that he was unsteady on his feet and spoke with a slur. Mahoney said he hadn't had a drink since the day before.

He was given a medical examination at the police station, but refused to carry out all phases of a sobriety test, court was told.

Evening With Joe Kirkwood

"THE last time I played this course," Joe Kirkwood said at Oak Bay last evening, "they had broccoli putting greens. The pro was Frank Buck. I played around here with two clubs—a driver and a stick."

To a boy, who crowded too close to him, the veteran trick-shot golfer said: "Son, you're going to have flowers in your room but you're not going to smell them."

When Dr. George Bigelow pushed a tee shot into the woods, Joe murmured:

"Bring me back a moose." And, as he examined the patch-work (temporary) 12th green, Kirkwood quipped: "Somebody left this out all night."

In a one-hour show, the old trapper hit a ball off Bill Haldane's watch; swung a lead-shaft club that wrapped around his neck; hit a drive 225 yards with a club made of rhinoceros hide; produced a Zulu club, entirely of twisted wire, which looked like a cabbage strainer.

But the most amazing show of all was the nine holes of golf he played beforehand with Bigelow, Gordon Verley and Laurie Carroll. Kirkwood birdied five of the first eight holes and finished with a 32.

Education Body Names B.C. Deputy

Dr. H. L. Campbell, British Columbia's deputy minister and superintendent of education, has been elected president of the Canadian Education Association, it was announced in Fredericton, N.B., today.

Simultaneously the association announced that on the invitation of Education Minister Leslie Peterson it will hold its 1958 convention in Victoria.

Originally a teacher in rural and city schools in B.C., Mr. Campbell joined the education department in 1928.

CAREER

Subsequently he served as inspector of schools, vice-principal of the provincial normal schools, director of the provincial summer school for teachers, municipal inspector of schools for Victoria, chief inspector of schools and assistant superintendent of education.

He was appointed deputy minister and superintendent of education in July, 1953.

Auto Plunges Off Street Into Gorge

Collision of two cars at Gorge and Rockwell sent three persons—two over 70—to hospital with minor injuries after one car plunged over a bank into the Gorge Wednesday.

The three were in a 1956 sedan which went out of control, over a boulevard and eight-foot rock bank, and landed nose-down in three feet of water with rear wheels still on the bank.

Those injured were J. R. Barnes, 1611 Bay, with a cut hand; his wife, Mrs. C. Barnes, 72, treated for leg cuts and bruises; their daughter, Edith, of the same address, who was driving and received a bruised forehead.

Her aunt, Miss L. Blackwell, 79, who was sitting beside the driver, was shaken up but not injured.

The car had been proceeding north on Gorge when at Rockwell it was in collision with a car driven by 75-year-old H. H. Stark, 1153 Fort, who drove west out of Rockwell to proceed north on Gorge.

Labor Body Backs Winter Job Drive

Victoria Labor Council Wednesday night supported a resolution urging more federal projects for this area.

The resolution is being sent to Ottawa by the Victoria Winter Employment Committee.

Don Douglas, shipwrights delegate, told the council that a recent meeting of the committee had drawn up a resolution asking for more public works and shipbuilding projects here to ease the expected shortage of work this winter.

Mr. Douglas also revealed today that a delegation from the committee will approach Defence Minister G. R. Pearkes, VC, with the same request as soon as possible.

NOT MUCH

"There are three or four naval jobs that will be completed soon and there is nothing in the offing except a destroyer escort contract for next year," he said.

Mr. Douglas told the council that businessmen were wholeheartedly behind the committee's "Plan Now" campaign and "in my opinion Premier Bennett is keeping two or three public works projects, including a court house, in reserve in case the situation gets bad this winter."

Union response to a request from the committee that it promote newspaper advertisements for the campaign resulted in only seven orders, he said.

SUPPORT IT

"We should get behind this campaign," he told the council. Meanwhile, the committee heard suggestions at a meeting earlier this week that all levels of government be encouraged to

Milk Delivery Cutback Due Next Week

No milk delivery will be made Wednesday by Victoria's four major dairies as a curtailed delivery schedule goes into effect next week.

The new schedule, skipping deliveries on Wednesday and Sunday, was announced Wednesday night after signing of a new contract with Local 464, Milk Salesmen and Dairy Employees' Union.

PRICE BOOST

A spokesman for the dairies added today that "immediate consideration" will be given to price increases as a result of the contract.

He said there was "no comment yet" on what the amount of the increase will be but it is expected to be one or two cents on top of the present 24-cent price for a quart of standard milk.

The spokesman said that three contracts have been signed with the union since 1951 without a price adjustment having been made.

FOUR DAIRIES

Dairies involved, which supply 90 per cent of the city's pasteurized milk, are Palm Dairies Ltd., Island Farms Co-operative Association, Shepherd's Dairy Ltd., and Northwestern Creamery Ltd.

The new contract, to expire March 31 next year, settles an eight-month dispute that threatened to produce a strike last month.

It grants monthly wage increases of $30 for drivers and $32.50 for plant employees retroactive to Jan. 1. In addition, drivers' work-weeks are cut from 50 to 45 hours.

Campbell Dam 'Extras' Set At $750,000

B.C. Power Commission today put a possible $750,000 price tag on "extras" added to the Upper Campbell River dam project over the last three years.

The figure was described as "not unreasonable" by a company spokesman. It was released following a Times investigation in Campbell River of reports of B.C.P.C. inefficiency and freespending.

The sum will be added to an earlier estimate of the cost of the project—$4,921,875.

Extra costs were blamed on a necessary work speed-up and lengthy litigation caused by opposition to Buttle Lake development.

TWO FLOODS

Campbell River residents blamed rising costs on two floods which occurred when early plug dams gave way last December, and on mishaps occurring on the job. Two prime examples given were the collapse of steel linings in a tunnel under the dam, and the loss of a 20-ton crane which toppled into the lake. It has still to be retrieved.

The acceleration program, which saw contractors Wade, Dawson and Macco placed on a cost-plus basis for three months, was claimed necessary to avoid a power shortage this fall.

Commission spokesman says the possible dimout has been averted and water storage of up to $1,000,000 value will be created by the speed-up.

MY GUINNESS!

Our Dinah Tries Stout For Stouting

By DINAH KERR

There's only one dieting day to go, friends, and I've become desperate.

Last night I sat down, contemplated my stomach, and decided it was time to add a few frills to Josephine Lowman's nine-day gaining diet. In answer to many calls from loyal supporters I turned to stout.

So, in the bosom of my family, at approximately 9 p.m. I killed a pint. A few minutes later, I fell into a sodden sleep and dreamt I was being chased by a bear.

Any weight I might have gained I worked off in that wild race down the mountain-side because I'm still only 116 pounds.

Since going on Josephine's diet last Thursday, I've gained exactly two pounds. I'm not one to point a finger of scorn, but I'm wagging a witch-like forefinger in the general direction of Josephine today. Her last words to me in the "Valuable Hints for Women Who Wish to Gain Weight" were "If you follow the above suggestions I believe that you will find the pounds climbing into their places."

I believed her. With a happy smile on my face I ate, exercised mildly and slept sufficiently.

But my elbows are still capable of inflicting a serious wound, my collar bones still stand out like burlis on a giant oak, and my bust-line is still a bust.

Josephine has led me up the garden path. However, my flabby friends, I'm not giving up yet. Two bottles of stout are being cooled in the refrigerator at this moment—and the Kerrs are going to have a ball tonight!

I'll sober up on this Friday: Breakfast—Fresh fruit, whole wheat cereal, cocoa and whipped cream, buttered toast.

Lunch—Baked potato, plenty of butter, green beans, yellow squash, milk and cream puff or chocolate éclair.

MONTE ROBERTS

I have been a little bit under the weather these past few days.

Now, if there is one person I loathe and detest, it is the person who tells you he has been a little bit under the weather and THEN tells you all about his symptoms.

And if there is one person I loathe and detest even more than the person described above, it is the columnist-type person who uses up valuable space in the newspaper to tell you he has been a little bit under the weather and THEN tells you all about his symptoms.

Nevertheless, I HAVE been a little bit under the weather, and there are special circumstances attached to name.

All the days I was a little bit under the weather, I was sitting on the news story of the year—and did not realize it.

The way I was a little bit under the weather, I was sneezing and sniffing, and my head ached madly, and so did the small of my back. Also I ran a temperature and there were other more intimate details with which I will not bore you.

Suffice it to say, I was a little bit under the weather in most unpleasant fashion.

But it was not until this morning, when I became almost over being a little bit under the weather, that I realized what happened:

I WAS THE FIRST CASE OF ASIAN FLU IN VICTORIA!

And this world-shattering event went unrecorded in the press, radio, and TV.

The reason I am sure I had Asian Flu is, I had all the symptoms of Asian Flu.

I have just checked into them, and I am sure of this fact. The reason I am so sure of this fact is, the symptoms of Asian Flu are exactly the same as the symptoms of African Flu and Indian Flu and Ancient Egyptian Flu and Good Old Anglo-Saxon Flu.

I have chosen Asian Flu because it is the most newsworthy.

I am only sorry I didn't decide on this earlier, so the news could have been printed in the papers.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Donald S. Bushell, Victoria, secretary of the Vancouver Island Building Trades Council, will attend an interprovincial conference of the B.C. and Alberta councils in Calgary, Sept. 28.

The same day, the VIBTC will hold its regular meeting in Nanaimo.

Ald. Austin I. Curtis will be acting-mayor of Victoria next week in the absence of Mayor Percy Scurrell and other council members who will attend the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Nelson. The appointment was recommended today by council finance meeting.

Ald. Curtis was originally appointed a UBCM delegate and Ald. G. I. Edgewood was to have taken the mayor's place. But when Ald. Curtis was required to remain here by pressure of business, the two changed places.

Second "piggy bank" larceny since the weekend was reported to city police late Wednesday by Mrs. D. Bell, 1003 Carberry Gardens.

She said she went out of her apartment at 4 p.m., leaving the door unlocked, and when she returned the bank, containing $16, was gone.

On Saturday a thief entered a Caledonia Street home while occupants were away and smashed a piggy bank containing more than $100.

Two or three delegates to the world seminar of the International Federation of Free Trade Unions, ending in Banff this week, will visit Victoria Monday as guests of local unions, Victoria Labor Council was told Wednesday night.

Members of the American Society of Travel Agents in convention here Wednesday resolved to work for establishment of courses in transportation at University of British Columbia and Washington State University.

A sub-committee was formed to arrange for research grants to help cover costs of the courses. C. E. "Bud" Blaney of Victoria was appointed a committee member.

A Victoria 17-year-old was placed on six months probation in Saanich juvenile court Wednesday for the part he took with two others in throwing a 15-year-old girl into the Gorge two weeks ago.

The other two boys earlier were given the same sentence.

Cornelius F. Hughes, 2214 Belmont, pleaded guilty to six charges of over-parking downtown and was fined a total $17.50 in city police court today.

Each of the first five charges drew penalties of $2.50 each and the last charge $5 because of "repetition."

Both sides of a wage dispute between 150 members of Federal 128, Canadian Chemical and Explosives Workers, and management of the Canadian Industries Limited explosives plant on James Island were presented to a conciliation board Thursday. The hearing was continuing today.

A new business block built for Canada Trust and Huron and Erie Mortgage Corporation, corner of Broad and View, will be open for public inspection Monday Sept. 30. The modern building was constructed by Luney Brothers and Hamilton. Architects were Birley and Simpson.

Marilyn To 'Speak' At Unveiling

Spectators attending the unveiling Saturday, Sept. 28, of the Marilyn Bell memorial plaque in Beacon Hill Park will hear the famed distance swimmer express her pleasure.

The Times, by special arrangement with Victoria civic officials, will broadcast a message from Miss Bell which she and coach Gus Ryder are recording this week in Toronto.

The 10 a.m. ceremony is set for the same time as Miss Bell will be taking her marriage vows in Alderwood, Ont. She is marrying Joseph Wesley DiLascio—a teacher and life-guard.

A cairn bearing a plaque presented by the Canadian Association of Memorial Craftsmen at Toronto, is being erected near the point where Miss Bell landed after her record-breaking crossing of Juan de Fuca Strait August 23, 1956.

UNVEILING BY MAYOR

Mayor Percy Scurrell will unveil the memorial at a public ceremony. Many of the persons who assisted in the swim will be on hand.

Site of the cairn is about 100 yards east of Finlayson Point lookout.

Officials plan to record the ceremony, including a lustrous "good luck Marilyn" from the crowd. It will be forwarded to her following the event along with copies of Times pictures.

Wardens Want Bayliss For Chief

Appointment of James E. Bayliss as Victoria fire chief effective Jan. 1, 1958, was recommended today by city council fire warden committee.

Council was expected to confirm the appointment later this afternoon.

Mr. Bayliss has served as deputy fire chief since April, 1950. He joined the fire department June 1, 1924, took leave of absence to serve overseas with the Canadian Corps of Fire-Fighters during the Second World War.

UNANIMOUS

The recommendation was unanimous by the committee headed by Ald. Austin I. Curtis and including Mayor Percy Scurrell and Ald. Arthur Dowell. It was proposed by city manager C. C. Wyatt.

Mayor Scurrell said the appointment was supported also by the B.C. fire marshal, who gave the deputy a high recommendation.

Deputy Bayliss will replace Chief Frank Briern who will retire on superannuation after 41 years on the force.

125 Delegates Meeting Here For Power Talks

One hundred and twenty-five delegates of the North Western Public Power Association opened a two-day convention at the Empress Hotel today.

The meeting is of the accounting and finance sections only. It is the first time the group has met in Victoria.

Purpose of the meetings is to determine methods of getting money for financing power projects at reasonable cost.

Delegates are from Alaska, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Oregon.

Got Zipper Trouble? Then Read About This New Hook

By PENNY SAVER

Captain Hook of "Peter Pan" certainly had an idea with that hook arm, but ladies, you, too, can be like old Hook.

Don't be alarmed. Just read on, because today I found an amazing zipper stick with a hook attached on the end for zippering up back zippers. For $2.50 you can fasten your own dress instead of calling the whole family to perform this almost impossible operation.

On Etiquette

Avoid Abbreviations

When addressing an envelope, is it more correct to write in full the "and, street and state," or is it better to abbreviate? I have always thought it correct to say, "I live at Chicago," yet most everyone will say "in Chicago." Which is correct, "I was talking with Mary," or "talking to Mary?"

Louise Davis

Answer: It is better to spell out the "and, street and Illinois," especially for personal letters, announcements, invitations and acknowledgments. Abbreviations are a lazy way of writing addresses, but, for business purposes, they are acceptable.

If a business envelope is handwritten, the writing should be legible enough to facilitate and expedite matters for postoffice, especially if abbreviations are used. Good grammar and proper usage of words signify good manners and breeding. "I live in Chicago" is correct. The idea is the same as "I live in the United States," rather than "at the United States." You are not living at a city, state, province or country, but in. However, you are living at such and such an address. "I was talking with Mary" is correct, because you and Mary are both talking with each other. "I was talking to Mary" is an accepted form, therefore, is considered correct. But, in the strict analysis, the "to" signifies that you are talking to Mary, but that Mary isn't necessarily talking to you.

CAC Meeting

First meeting of the fall season of the Canadian Association of Consumers will be held in the music room of the Public Library at 2 p.m. next Monday, Mrs. Nova Graham, director of the B.C. Beautifully garnished with snipped parsley, sieved egg yolks and egg white slivers, this delicious soup is seasoned with sherry

Mushroom Soup Au Sherry

This soup is truly superb! It vividly illustrates what marvelous flavor sherry or cooking sherry can add to food. This soup is lovely to see — topped with snipped green parsley, sieved egg yolks and egg white slivers.

Ingredients: 1 cup water, 1/2 cup uncooked white rice, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1/2 cup finely chopped onions, 1 3-oz. can broiled chopped mushrooms, 1 10 1/2-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup, 2 cups beef broth or stock (use bouillon cubes, if desired), 1 hard-boiled egg, 1/4 cup sherry or cooking sherry, if desired, finely snipped parsley.

Method: Put the water, rice and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat down low. Cover with a lid and simmer over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but leave the lid on until ready to use, at least 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, melt the butter or margarine in a 2-quart saucepan. Add the onions and mushrooms. Cook slowly, stirring occasionally, until the

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev.

(AP)—A small atomic bomb was fired today in a chamber 800 feet beneath a desert mesa. Its earthquake-like shock waves are expected to tell scientists much that is new about the globe we live on. And it may show the way to "safe" testing of some types of nuclear weapons.

The explosion was the 21st of the summer test series and the first full-scale underground shot in history. Two near-surface blasts were fired in 1951.

In the gambling town of Las Vegas, 90 miles away, no effects were noticed.

There were no visible surface effects. No flash. No heat wave. No shock wave, either in the air or the ground underneath.

On Vancouver Island Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, permanent installations at Saanich, Alberni, and Horseshoe Bay and special installations at Ripple Rock all failed to record the tremor.

Woman Prime Minister?
Why Not?—Fairclough

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Canada may one day have a woman prime minister, in the opinion of Mrs. Ellen Fairclough, secretary of state in the new Conservative government and the first woman to hold a cabinet post in Ottawa.

"I see no reason why a woman of exceptional gifts should not be prime minister," said slim, brown-eyed Mrs. Fairclough, interviewed during a brief visit to Victoria today.

"Of course," she added quickly, "it is not likely to happen for a long time to come. But I can foresee a time when a woman parliamentarian of outstanding ability and character may qualify for government leadership."

In support of her argument, Mrs. Fairclough said public prejudice against women in high office has diminished considerably in recent years, and women generally are becoming increasingly interested in public affairs.

ONE DRAWBACK

"There is, however, the drawback that most women like to live close to home. For that reason most of them are attracted to public work at the municipal level."

Although she successfully introduced legislation to provide equal pay for women in industry, Mrs. Fairclough stated emphatically that she is not a feminist.

"I do not think women should be in parliament just because they are women. They must have a special interest in public affairs and the ability to express themselves clearly and forcefully."

Later she was to meet Premier Bennett at the legislative buildings and tonight she will be honored at a dinner arranged by A. E. deB. McPhillips, Conservative member for Victoria.

Did she favor raising sessional indemnities to federal members?

"No, I don't think that is advisable," she replied. "If we raise remuneration too high we shall attract people who could not earn that much anywhere else. And a person interested only in making money is not an ideal parliamentarian."

NEW OFFICE
In her new office as secretary of state, Mrs. Fairclough administers the Queen's Printer and in that capacity she visited the Queen's printing establishment at HMC Dockyard, Esquimalt, this morning.

Faubus
Defies Subpoena

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—

Arkansas Governor Orval Faubus defied a subpoena for a hearing today in an anti-segregation lawsuit and asked U.S. District Judge Ronald Davies to disqualify himself as "biased and prejudiced."

The suit is not directly related to Friday's hearing, in which Faubus also is under subpoena. The second case grows out of his use of the state militia to keep Negroes out of Central High School in Little Rock.

Faubus told reporters he does not know whether he will honor the summons Friday.

Davies is on the bench in both cases.

He was one of three federal judges before whom Negro ministers brought a petition today, challenging the validity of Arkansas laws, passed by the legislature this year, which are aimed at preserving segregation in the state's schools.

His rejection of a subpoena—on grounds that as governor of the state the federal court could not compel his appearance—gave a clue to his possible course of action Friday.

If Judge Davies issues a temporary injunction on Friday's hearing—and there is little doubt in Little Rock that it will be granted—it will command the governor to withdraw guardsmen from the school and open the doors for Negroes.

Royal Commission
Move Expected
At Coming Session

OTTAWA (CP)—The Journal says a private Progressive Conservative member of Parliament is expected to place a motion on the Commons order paper that a royal commission be named to inquire into the case of the late Herbert Norman.

The newspaper says that the motion probably will be supported by Conservatives generally and that the government then will agree to appoint the commission. Parliament meets Oct. 14.

Prime Minister Diefenbaker asked about the possibility of the government appointing such a commission, said "I have no knowledge of that whatsoever; I haven't heard of it."

Norman, Canadian ambassador to Egypt, committed suicide in Cairo April 4 after the internal security subcommittee of the United States Senate renewed old allegations, first made public in 1951, that Norman had had Communist associations.

Last spring, Conservatives criticized the then Liberal administration for the way in which confidential information obtained by the RCMP had found its way to the U.S. Senate subcommittee through the hands of the FBI.

Former external affairs minister Pearson said the U.S. Senate subcommittee had obtained its information from an RCMP report which the RCMP itself had soon after branded as false. The RCMP had said its original report was based on 1940 information passed on by a secret agent in Toronto from an unidentified sub-source and was a case of either mistaken identity or unfounded rumor.

Tons of Poison
Spilled in Crash

THAMESVILLE, Ont. (CP)—Chemists from the United States were rushed to this Western Ontario community today to help clean up 25,000 pounds of sodium cyanide which spilled along the Canadian National Railways right-of-way here early today following a train-truck collision.

The shipment was from the E. I. Du Pont plant in Buffalo and was passing through Ontario in bond bound for Detroit.

A Du Pont of Canada spokesman in Toronto said there was no immediate danger to persons in the Thamesville area from sodium cyanide because it does not give off lethal fumes though it could burn the skin. He said rain, reported falling today on the spilled chemical, would not readily affect the chemical to make it dangerous. Its main danger was in drinking water, he said.

But workmen laboring to clear up the sodium cyanide complained by mid-day today of burns from the flakey white chemical.

St. John Ambulance official Al Puddicombe said at least 10 men were treated at the scene. The sodium cyanide was dumped more than 100 yards along the line when the CNR train crashed with a tractor-trailer bound from Buffalo to Detroit with a bonded shipment of the chemical from the American E. I. Du Pont Company.

The only person injured in the crash was truck driver J. C. Sluder, 39-year-old father of four from Wayne, Mich., who said "I tried to stop" when he saw the CNR train speeding towards the level crossing.

Sluder suffered shoulder injuries. Meanwhile other residents of this village of 1,100 complained that a light wind was blowing a white powder about and that it affected their lips and their eyes.

RISKING WAR UN TOLD

Dulles Warns Russ On Arms to Syria

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—State Secretary Dulles told the UN today the Soviet Union is risking armed conflict in the Middle East by sending arms to Syria and other Arab countries.

Turkey, he said, already is faced with a "growing military danger" from the Soviet build-up in Syria and in Russia. And he warned that Soviet aid to Middle East countries, together with inflaming Communist propaganda, might lead the recipient of the Soviet arms "into acts of direct aggression."

"One consequence," Dulles said "... is that Turkey now faces growing military danger from the major buildup of Soviet arms in Syria on its southern border, a buildup concerted with Soviet military power on Turkey's northern border."

The U.S. secretary called on the 82-country General Assembly to give the Soviet actions a full airing in an attempt to halt what he called a policy of Middle East domination by the Communists.

Syrian delegate Jawdat Mufit denied that his country poses a threat to any country.

"The West knows very well," he told a reporter, "that Syria is in no position to threaten anybody. And it has no intention to threaten any of its neighbors."

In a broad policy declaration, Dulles said "The United Nations may not be able by any material power it can muster to tranquilize the scene." But he asserted it must exert its full influence to stop the Russians.

Touching on the disarmament problem, he told the UN the Soviet Union has no monopoly on space weapons.

"The Soviet Union has announced that it has discovered ways to use outer space to wreak vast destruction anywhere," he said. "That is no new discovery. The United States has discovered it long ago."

IKE, NEGRO TO CONFER ON INTEGRATION CRISIS

NEWPORT, R.I. (UP)—President Eisenhower has agreed to confer with Negro Congressman Aram Clayton Powell on the school integration crisis.

Powell, a Democrat who supported the president for re-election, had asked Eisenhower to meet with him and other Negro leaders to discuss school integration problems.

U.K. Bank Rate Hike Surprises in Canada

(See also Page 5)

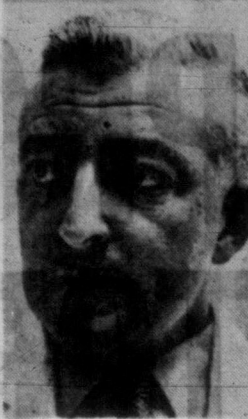

OTTAWA (CP)—First Canadian reaction to Britain's decision to boost her bank rate to seven per cent was one of surprise and some concern over the impact of the increase on Canadian exports.

However, there was some feeling in Ottawa that the boost of two per cent—a drastic increase raising the British rate to the highest point in 37 years—might have the effect of attracting more investment dollars overseas.

This might help strengthen the British pound which has been sagging under the weight of a widening U.K. deficit in her trade with the dollar area.

The Canadian central bank rate is at a near-record 4½ per cent; the United States rate about 3½ per cent.

Britain's determination to curb spending by making borrowing extremely expensive could have some effect on Canadian exports, officials said.

... claims discovery.

Common Cold Vaccine 80% Effective

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 34-year-old Johns Hopkins scientist today drew the attention of engineers and sniffers with his disclosure that he has developed an effective vaccine for the common cold.

The discovery claimed by Dr. Winston H. Price of the Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health is that:

1. He has succeeded in isolating the first "true" virus of the common cold—one responsible for 30 per cent of the cases he has studied during a two-year period.

2. He has developed a vaccine which, in controlled tests on more than 400 persons, prevented colds caused by the "JH virus" in 80 per cent of the cases.

The possibility of mass producing the vaccine is good, Dr. Price indicated. Immunity is produced from two shots of the vaccine, the second following the first by four weeks, Dr. Price said. He could not say how long the immunity would last.

French Machine-Gun Tunisian Army Post

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP)—The government said today a French fighter plane machine-gunned a Tunisian army post about a half-mile from the Tunisian-Algerian frontier. The spot is known as Sakiet-Sidi-Youssef. It said a Tunisian troops in the post shot back at the plane. Damage to the post was said to be slight.

Duplessis Men Sweep By-Election

QUEBEC CITY (BUP)—Premier Maurice Duplessis' powerful National Union government swept all four seats in Wednesday's provincial by-elections to increase its standing in the 92-member legislature to 73. The Liberal party lost the riding of Compton to cut its standing to 16. Three seats are held by Independents.

More than 75 per cent of the eligible voters went to the polls. Voting was reported quiet.

The closest contest was in Vaudreuil-Soulanges where Liberal Paul Gerin-Lajoie had been given a good chance of beating Loyalist Schmidt, National Union candidate. Schmidt drew 7,980 votes to 7,329 for Gerin-Lajoie, while Antoine Giguere of the CCF party trailed with only 29.

Russ 'Invade' NATO Force

LONDON (AP)—A Russian trawler passed today through the seven-country naval formation now engaged in NATO Exercise Strikeback.

Officials in London said the vessel, about 106 feet long and carrying the name Kalingrad moved directly through a concentration of about 50 ships. The trawler was signalled but did not respond.

CLIMBING, NOT SERIOUS

Asian Flu Hits 65,000 in U.S.

WASHINGTON (UP)—Here's the latest communique on Asian flu:

1. The number of cases in the United States is climbing. The U.S. public health service, which put the total at 50,000 last week, now estimates "at least 65,000" cases. Officials said, however, that part of the apparent increase may represent improved reporting procedures.

2. There is no sign yet that the disease has begun to spread with the prairie-fire speed of a true national epidemic. Outbreaks have been reported in 37 states, but all have remained localized. The biggest local epidemic, in Louisiana, apparently is leveling off.

3. Vaccine production is running somewhat behind schedule. Drug manufacturers originally hoped to turn out 8,000,000 shots by Sept. 15. Only 5,430,442 shots actually were released for military and civilian use by Sept. 12. A new batch, which will go out this week, will bring the total to about 7,000,000.

4. Asian flu continues to be a comparatively mild disease for most victims. Twelve deaths have been reported among 65,000 cases—a death rate of two 100ths of 1 per cent. There is no evidence that the disease is growing in virulence like the great flu epidemic of 1918 which caused an estimated 850,000 deaths in the United States.

At public health service headquarters, where daily reports from every part of the country are plotted on huge charts, epidemic experts are watching closely for the first sign that isolated outbreaks of flu have begun to merge into a great wave of contagion.

Smith Attends UN Parley

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—External Affairs Minister Smith of Canada attended a meeting of Commonwealth delegation heads this morning before going into the United Nations Assembly to hear the major American policy speech made by State Secretary Dulles.

The Canadian minister, in his first week at the UN, met some of the other Commonwealth leaders today for the first time. Wednesday he conferred with Dulles and had an appointment with Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Libel Trial Jurors Still Deliberating

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jurors in the Confidential magazine libel trial began their third day of deliberation today to determine if the six defendants are guilty of conspiring to publish obscenity and do commit criminal libel.

Jewelry Stolen

VANCOUVER (CP)—Thieves looted $3,200 worth of diamond rings early today from a downtown jewelry store.

A large rock was thrown through a plate-glass window in the Granville Street store of the Hutchinson Jewelry Co. The store lost $2,500 worth of diamond rings in a similar raid only three weeks ago.

Red Regime Worried

SAN MARINO (AP)—Faced with possible defeat in a parliamentary vote, the Communist government of this tiny republic dissolved the grand council today and called for new elections.

The election date has not been set but it is assumed it will be held this year.

DULLES

States, too, knows how that can be done."

Dulles added: "Those who feel an abnormal sense of power as a result of the recent putting into their hands of large amounts of Soviet bloc arms, are being incited by violent propaganda. That is risky business."

The secretary charged Russian acts in the Middle East were in violation of an assembly resolution adopted in 1945 calling upon every nation to refrain from any threats or acts aimed at impairing the integrity of any state.

He said the situation called for not only individual and collective vigilance on the part of all free nations but, "when there is such a situation as now exists in the Middle East, this General Assembly ought at least to consider it and discuss it."

He said the United States would reserve the right in the light of these discussions to introduce concrete proposals.

Referring specifically to the situation in Syria, he declared:

"This Soviet Communist effort has made the most progress in Syria, where Soviet bloc arms were exultantly received and where political power has increasingly been taken over by those who depend upon Moscow. True patriots have been driven from positions of power by arrests or intimidation."

GROWING DANGER

"One consequence of this is that Turkey now faces growing military danger from the major buildup of Soviet arms in Syria on its southern border, a buildup concerted with Soviet military power on Turkey's northern border.

"Last week the Soviet Union sought to intimidate Turkey from making internal dispositions of its security forces to protect against a possible Soviet pincer movement."

Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko will have his say before the assembly Friday.

As Dulles spoke, dispatches from London reported two Soviet warships have sailed for Syria on a "friendly" mission. Their course would bring them close to the U.S. 6th Fleet in the eastern Mediterranean.

DOOR STILL OPEN

On disarmament, Dulles expressed the belief Russia's rejection of the most recent western proposals in the London talks is not final.

Victoria Daily Times

THURSDAY, SEPT. 19, 1957

At the same time, he made it clear that the United States will continue nuclear tests until the Soviet Union agrees to a disarmament plan which would prevent surprise attacks and end the production of fissionable materials for weapon purposes.
